General Motors Facing Threat Of Midnight Strike

DETROIT, June 11 (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers said today General Motors Corp. contract talks "have reached a critical stage" with less than 24 hours remaining before a Sunday midnight strike deadline for GM's 350,000 workers.

The union invited GM President Harlow Curtice to enter the talks personally, but Curtice promptly turned down the bid.

The union statement was the first public word that the negotiations were not running smoothly.

The UAW has set Sunday midnight as a final deadline, after granting a contract extension earlier in the week, for either a settlement or a walkout of GM workers in 119 plants from coast to coast.

The invitation to Curtice to take part in the bargaining was contained in a letter from UAW President Walter Reuther and the union's vice president, John W. Livingston.

They said that with less than 36 hours before the deadline, the negotiations "have reached a critical stage with time running out."

Unresolved issues, the union said, include economic matters, working conditions and local plant problems. The letter did not mention the guaranteed wage demand specifically, but it was indicated that this too was among the unsettled contract matters.

Reuther and Livingston told Curtice that "both of your two immediate predecessors, Mr. William S. Knudsen and Mr. C. E. Wilson, participated in negotiations when they had reached a comparable critical stage."

"In the interest of avoiding a strike," they said, "we urge your prompt and favorable consideration of our request that you join us at the bargaining table."

Curtice, en route to nearby Ann Arbor to receive an honorary engineering degree from the University of Michigan, answered through a spokesman.

"Mr. Harry W. Anderson and

To Visit President

Menon May Urge Change In Policy Toward Red China

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP) — India's roving diplomat, V. K. Krishna Menon, is expected to urge President Eisenhower next week to make some conciliatory moves toward Red China. But U. S. officials are skeptical about his producing any practical proposal.

Menon's meeting with Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles on Tuesday is one of the most fascinating of a busy week of diplomatic events. The week will also see German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer calling at the White House, bring a review of U. S. policy toward Yugoslavia at the State Department and advance Big Four conference planning at meetings in New York.

What sets Krishna Menon's mission apart is that despite public and secret reports of what he has been telling people on his way here, no one from Dulles down can figure out what practical purpose he hopes to serve.

Prime Minister Nehru's most trusted envoy and confidante, Krishna Menon visited Red China last month and talked at length with Premier Chou En-lai. When he returned to New Delhi two weeks ago he reported on his impressions to U. S. Ambassador John Sherman Cooper. He announced to newsmen that four American fighter pilots would be released from Red China and they were released.

He talked with newsmen about his hopes for improving peace prospects in the Far East. He has also talked with top Western officials, like British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan, on his way here. He has expressed strong hope that Red China will follow up release of the four airmen by letting 11 others they have acknowledged holding go free, but has taken the line this would be helped if the United States would make some conciliatory gestures.

Boycott Fizzles As Shivers Makes Address At USC

LOS ANGELES, June 11 (AP)—A threatened boycott fizzled today as Gov. Shivers of Texas spoke to an overflow crowd of 14,000 at the University of Southern California commencement.

Although the governor had to skirt a protest picket line as he left his hotel, he had no trouble when he arrived at the university. A police official described the graduation as "the smoothest we have seen."

Shivers was applauded following his speech.

Extra police were on duty because two weeks ago some students and faculty members protested the choice of Shivers as commencement speaker because of his stand on racial segregation. The Student Senate adopted a critical resolution and a petition was signed by 136 faculty members.

Disaster Threat Grows As British Strike Continues

LONDON, June 11—UP—Hopes for a weekend settlement of Britain's paralyzing rail strike vanished Saturday, bringing the nation a step nearer economic disaster.

The striking Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen, ignoring a direct appeal from Labor Minister Sir Walter Monckton, turned down a government wage offer. No further talks are scheduled until Monday.

Meanwhile, a new walkout on the strikebound waterfront halted the sailing of two liners—the Saxonia and the Media—and stranded 1,080 passengers bound for the United States and Canada.

Six other passenger ships had previously been prevented from sailing, and the Cunard Line is chartering airliners to get stranded tourists home.

A long-shoremen's strike, unconnected with the walkouts on the passenger ships, has tied up more than 250 freighters in six major English ports, from London to Liverpool.

Monckton warned the strikers Saturday that continued labor unrest—particularly on the nationalized railroads — could wreck the shaky prosperity Britain has been able to achieve since World War II.

The coal production vital to Britain's economy fell off 150,000 tons this week, but even so trucks being used for emergency hauling could not move the backlog that accumulated at the mines.

Unemployment in industries forced to close by the rail strike is mounting toward the 1 million mark.

10 American Airmen Killed In Plane Crash

Superfort Plunges Into Mountainside In South Germany

STUTTGART, Germany, June 11 —UP— All 10 crew members of a U. S. Superfortress were killed when their plane, flying up a dead-end valley and with visibility cut to 30 feet by fog, crashed into a mountainside and burned over Germany Friday night, the Air Force announced Saturday.

"There were no survivors," an Air Force spokesman said after rescue teams reached the scene of the crash 1,300 feet up the side of a 2,200 foot peak in the Swabian Alps.

The plane was attached to the 582nd air re-supply group at Molesworth Air Force Base, Huntingdonshire, England. It was an SB-29, a supply transport version of the famed World War II Superfortress and was on a non-stop instrument training flight over Germany when it crashed 13 miles southeast of Stuttgart.

Instrument failure of a miscalculation of the crew while "flying blind" over unfamiliar territory was blamed for the crash.

The pilot flying on instruments let down for a practice approach to the Stuttgart air field and was climbing away from the field for a return flight to England when radio contact was lost with the aircraft.

His climb was too slow and he flew up a dead-end valley 900 feet below the summit of the surrounding hills, officials said.

"Visibility was only 30 feet," an official said. "The pilot apparently tried at the last minute to pull the plane up, clear of the peak that loomed in front of him."

Air Force rescue teams and detachments of German police reached the crash scene early Saturday morning near the village of Owen.

The Air Force said that identification of the crew would not be made until Monday at the earliest to allow next of kin to be notified.

Lev Emphatically Denies Payments To U. S. Officials

WASHINGTON, June 11 —UP— Millionaire cap maker Harry Lev, central figure in a pay-off investigation, insisted under a senatorial tongue-lashing Saturday that he could not remember how he spent some $214,000 in cash during a two-year period.

But the Chicago cap king said he slipped not a dollar to government employes in order to get government contracts.

The millionaire manufacturer — whose broken English, odd phrasing, and tributes to the rejuvenation powers of turtle steaks have spiced five days of hearings —ended his testimony with trouble, apparently, still ahead.

The Senate Internal Security subcommittee, which has been hearing his testimony, made public closed-door testimony given Friday after it finished Saturday's hearings.

In this testimony, Lev's account

Full-Scale Probe Of Polio Program Set By Congress

WASHINGTON, June 11—UP—Chairman J. Percy Priest of the House Commerce committee Saturday ordered a full investigation of the Salk polio vaccine controversy.

Priest, a Tennessee Democrat, said his group will dig into the vital issue of the vaccine's safety, the advisability of giving shots during the summer polio season, and the way the program has been handled by the Eisenhower administration.

He said the hearings will get underway about a week from Tuesday.

The problem also will come up for review before the Senate labor committee which will resume its hearings on several vaccine control bills next week.

Priest said that until his committee gets all the answers on the vaccine's safety and use, "Congress should not enact any legislation endorsing the mass inoculation of American children."

He spoke out as the government's massive "white paper" on the nation's vaccine troubles came under heavy attack from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, one of the vaccine manufacturers, and others.

The report conceded frankly that the safety standard under which most of the vaccine this year was released had "failed" because of misjudgment on the part of the government, the industry, and some scientists.

Foundation President Basil O'Connor attacked the report as a one-sided version. He said that Dr. Jonas E. Salk, developer of the vaccine, had another version. Salk declined to comment until he reads the whole document.

H. W. Blades, executive vice president of Wyeth Laboratories, took heated issue Saturday with implications in the report and statements of Public Health Service officials which, he said, appeared to cast "suspicion" on one batch of his company's vaccine.

The Health Service report, issued Thursday, said the company voluntarily withdrew the unused portion of the one batch after 11 children inoculated with it came down with polio.

Racer Hurdles Over Barriers And Explodes

Observers Report Carnage At Scene As 'Indescribable'

LE MANS, France, Sunday, June 12 (AP)—At least 70 persons died and another 75 were seriously injured from the crash of a flaming sports car in front of the grandstand in Le Mans' 24-hour auto race.

A speeding Mercedes crashed into another roaring car then catapulted in flames over a dirt retaining wall into the crowd Saturday, and early today the death toll was still rising.

Among the dead was the driver of the silver-coated Mercedes, Pierre Levegh of France.

Flames and flying debris took a heavy toll among the spectators. Pieces of hot metal cut bodies apart.

M. Huet, chief police inspector who directed the removal of dead and dying, said he knew of two children who were decapitated. The dazed parents took the bodies away without informing police.

Huet said 65 persons died in hospitals or were dead on arrival "and I know of five others at least who are dead."

The number of dead was rising "as various injuries turn out to be fatal," he added.

The accident was one of the worse in the history of racing — possibly the most catastrophic.

John Fitch of Stamford, Conn., was the relief driver for Levegh in the crashed Mercedes but he was not in the car at the time of the crash.

A high-ranking police officer, his arms bloody to the elbow, said an hour after the crash while bodies were still being dragged from the crowd:

"I know 10 are dead. The total will go to 50, at least. Many of the injured were so mutilated they cannot live. We will never know the full cost of this. I fought through the war and never did I see such carnage."

The accident occurred when three cars roared abreast in the half mile straightaway in front of the stands. A crowd of about 250,000 spectators, many of them 20 to 30 deep along the outside rail behind the protective wall watched

Cattle And Horses Must Evacuate State Highways Before July 1 Deadline

BATON ROUGE, June 11 (AP)—Free-grazing cattle and horses, a deadly traffic hazard on many Louisiana highways, were warned today their roaming days are almost over.

Rep. Percy Roberts reminded that the state's first livestock law goes into effect July 1.

The East Baton Rouge lawmaker sponsored the bill which bans cattle, horses, mules, donkeys, swine, sheep or goats from all highways with a traffic count of over 1,000 vehicles daily.

The bill, passed by the 1954 Legislature, does not take effect until one year after Gov. Robert Kennon signed it, July 1, 1954.

The delay was to give the open range cattlemen time to build the fences provided in the other measure of the two-bill package.

The other bill, authored by Rep. Creed Blair of Rapides Parish, appropriated $400,000 in a two-year period to pay for fencing material.

But the state aid was to be only for half the cost of the fencing material. Local funds must pay for the remainder of the material and all the labor.

Early reports indicate many fences have been built, but mostly they have been paid for by the owners of the land and little of the state money has been spent on fencing.

The fence-law law represents the end of a 10-year fight for the Baton Rouge lawmaker, begun when he first entered the Legislature in 1944.

"And there's been times in that 10 years that I've cried a long time after that," he said.

Roberts led the fight in the House and Sen. H. Eliot Gaard of Lafayette was the Senate leader.

Gaillot credits made the state ready that a fence law was needed. Robert explained, "It is a bad traffic accident at Sicily Island every week-end."

"A cattle wreck and the family gets mixed up in a law-suit. They run into a cow on the road, then another car and one or both cars killed," he explained.

But Gaillot a stock-raising opponent to the bill, thanks the Robert said Hebert Council engaged the case before the East Baton Rouge appeared on radio and television and speaking at civic clubs.

He said the attention was a result of the fact that the Baton Rouge Council had already made a study of the problem and had a report on the recommendations.

Some Lies Okay

'Unusual' Verdict Made By NLRB On Union Propaganda

WASHINGTON, June 11—UP—The National Labor Relations Board said Saturday unions or employers can lie to workers to try and convince them to vote for or against a union.

That is, the board said, it's all right so long as the lies don't influence anyone's vote to an overwhelming degree.

In an unusual unanimous opinion, Republican and Democrat members of the five-man board agreed that:

"Exaggerations, inaccuracies, partial truths, name-calling and even falsehoods, while not condoned, must be expected as legitimate propaganda," before a union representation election.

But the board said such "propaganda" would not be "so misleading as to prevent the exercise of a free choice by employees in in horror as two of the cars collided with a splintering crash.

The sleek racers were streaking along at about 125 miles per hour.

A British Austin-Healey driven by the Briton, Lance Macklin, veered, scraping and smashing along the cement wall in front of the pits. Several spectators were injured on that side of the track, among them Macklin.

The second car, the Mercedes, brushed against the pit wall, bounced off and headed at a right angle across the track, catapulting over a six-foot dirt wall, over a picket fence and plunging in a flaming, smoking dive straight into the massed crowd of screaming people.

More than a dozen ambulances, scores of police officers, security men, doctors, nurses and first aid workers worked nearly two hours to remove the dead and injured.

Some of the bodies were piled two to a stretcher, as they were brought out. A priest moved among the injured, praying, making the sign of the cross and occasionally lifting the bloody paper from each face to see if the dead was man or woman.

Bodies and the injured were taken to hospitals in Le Mans, a city of 90,000 in western France, and to nearby towns. They were carried in ambulances and on farm trucks. A four-foot pile of bloody clothing, shoes and newspapers remained as a monument to the horror.

Officials at the track put out a call for blood donors among the spectators to help treat the victims with transfusions.

In Paris, the French minister for public health, Bernard Lafay, left for the scene to take personal charge of the hospital and first aid organization. He ordered the Paris medical system to be ready to furnish medicines and plasma.

As darkness fell under clear, cool skies thousands of spectators massed around wine, beer and sandwich stands. Some of the crowd that pressed around the circuit to see the start had gone to their homes or downtown restaurants. They planned to return tomorrow for the finish at 4 p.m.

The two American entries in the race sponsored by Briggs Cunningham of Greens Farms, Conn., were not affected by the accident. They were a Cunningham special, driven by Cunningham himself and Sherwood Johnson of Rye, N. Y., and a Jaguar driven by William Spear of Southport, Conn., and Phil Walters of West Palm Beach, Fla.

Neither car was among the first 12 at the end of five hours.

A Ferrari driven by Maurice Sparken of France and Maston Gregory of Kansas City, Mo., dropped out on the 22nd lap with a gas leak.

At 9 p.m. the leaders were running in this order:

1. Fangio and Moss, Mercedes.
2. Mike Hawthorn, Jaguar.
3. Umberto Maglioli, Italy, and Phil Hill, Ferrari.
4. Tony Rolt and Duncan Hamilton, Britain, Jaguar.
5. Don Beauman and John Dewis, Britain, Jaguar.
6. Luigi Musso, Italy, Maserati.
7. Karl Kling, Germany, and Andre Simon, France, Mercedes.
8. Johny Claes and Acques Swaters, Belgium, Jaguar.
9. Peter Collins, Britain, Paul Frere, Belgium, Aston Martin.
10. Reginald Parnell and Dennis Poore, Britain, Lagonda.

Anti-Polio Shots Are Due In 2 Parishes This Week

After being delayed for several weeks while the government took the precaution to double check all reserves of vaccine and survey production methods, the anti-polio vaccination program for first and second graders will resume in Ouachita and Morehouse parishes tomorrow.

The vaccination program will continue throughout the week at conveniently located points in the parishes. Parents of children receiving the inoculations will carry their children to the respective places because school bus transportation is not available now that school is out.

Approximately 3,760 first and second graders of Ouachita received the first shot and are therefore eligible for the second round tomorrow. In Morehouse 1756 pupils took first shots.

Times and places for vaccinations in the two parishes are:

4 Workers Hurt In Explosion At Ordnance Plant

SHREVEPORT, La. June 11 — (UP)— Four persons injured in a blast at the Louisiana Ordnance plant were hospitalized with undetermined injuries from shrapnel Saturday.

Ten persons were injured when a tray of detonators went off shortly before noon Friday, but only two were believed seriously hurt. A complete survey of injuries was to be completed this morning.

Lt. Col. A. H. Nettleship, commander of the plant 20 miles east of here, could give no cause for the explosion. The detonators, about the size of .22 caliber bullets, were in the process of being assembled.

Persons working nearby said the blast sounded like the report of a 12 gauge shotgun.

Those hospitalized were Bessie Carter of Dogline, Mary Lee of Arcadia, Glen Daten of Minden and Melba McCracken of Shreveport. The other six were not seriously hurt.

HOLLYWOOD, June 11—UP—Famed Shakespearean actor Walter Hampden died at Cedars of Lebanon hospital Saturday following a stroke Thursday.

The 75-year-old thespian had showed signs of recovering Friday but his condition became worse Saturday.

Hampden was stricken while on his way to work in a new movie at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio.

The actor had announced his retirement in 1947 after 4 years on the stage and screen.

He began playing Shakespearean roles at Brighton, Eng., in 1901 and in 1907 came to New York, made the United States his home and became one of the great actors of the American theater. He played numerous motion picture character parts and also acted as film technical advisor.

Four-Year-Old Tot Killed At Metairie

NEW ORLEANS, June 11 (AP) — Four-year-old William Ellis Sigler Jr., of Metairie, died today when he ran in front of an auto.

The car was driven by Gerald Ashton Mauterer, 17, also of Metairie. Mauterer said the child apparently had been standing behind a utility pole and ran in front of the car as it approached.

Deputy Victor Massa Jr. of Jefferson Parish quoted a witness as saying the auto was going about 10 miles an hour. Massa said the driver was booked with negligent homicide and released after posting bond of $2,500.

Long Raps Perez In Press Confab

LAFAYETTE, La., June 11 (AP)— Sen. Russell Long (D-La) today accused Leander Perez of issuing "a "smear statement" against him and blamed the district attorney for Louisiana "losses" in the tidelands fight.

At a press conference here, Long denied Perez' charge that he was influenced by the political Action Committee of the CIO in criticizing the 1954 act on which Louisiana bases its boundary claims.

Roundtable Sets Detention Home For Talks Today

The Junior Chamber of Commerce roundtable telecast Sunday afternoon will feature a discussion of the "role of the detention home in controlling juvenile delinquency," Dr. T. A. Beuhr, Jr. has announced. The telecast will begin at 3:30 p.m.

Although the local Jaycee organization has not gone on record of its stand on the proposed tax vote next Tuesday, the roundtable panel will discuss detention homes in general and particularly the Ouachita parish home.

The local panel will consist of Dr. Margaret Coon, a member of the board of directors, northeast branch of the Louisiana Mental Health Association; Mrs. G. W. Pomeroy, member of the Louisiana Youth Commission; Mrs. Elmer Steele, secretary of the citizens' committee for the detention home; and Lawrence Perry, chairman of the citizens' committee.

All interested persons are invited to telephone their question in to the station while the program is on the air. Receiving the questions will be John McQuaid, Pete Dowd and Diehlmann C. Bernhardt.

Kennon's Veto Of The Rainach School Bill

Governor Robert Kennon's veto of the bill appropriating $33½ million to provide state aid in the construction of Louisiana public schools will prove unpopular with many educational leaders; yet this action should not be viewed as a blow to education.

The bill had the vigorous backing of Sen. W. M. Rainach, chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on Education. Originally it was offered as a $225-million 10-year program without any matching provision applying to the cities and parishes. It would have dedicated tidelands revenue, for the ensuing decade, to this one purpose. Later, the measure was reduced in time and monetary scope, and a matching requirement inserted.

Both the original and revised versions were open to the same fundamental objection: in each, the state was obligated to enter, in a broad way, the field of schoolhouse building hitherto reserved to parishes and cities. This is contrary to precedent, and flies in the face of the established system under which Louisiana has made steady and continuous improvements in its public school plants. Except in a few instances, the parishes and cities have by no means exhausted their own taxing and bonding capacities for school construction purposes.

Under an enabling act signed by the governor, school districts are permitted to raise their school construction debt ceiling to 25 per cent of assessed valuation, the limit hitherto being 20 per cent. This act alone adds millions of dollars to the available credit of the school subdivisions.

The Legislature in its recent fiscal session approved bills carrying a total of more than $120 million in appropriations, against an estimated revenue of about $50 million. In so doing, the lawmakers made it necessary for the governor to veto many of these revenue measures.

The state already is carrying a heavy load in the educational field—providing most of the revenue for teachers' salaries and school plant maintenance, and spending millions annually to expand facilities in the rapidly growing state-owned universities and colleges. Among the bills signed by Governor Kennon last week was one increasing the amount distributed to the schools by 95 cents per child of school age, at a cost of $1 million.

The Rainach Committee bill vetoed Friday by the governor had been urged upon the Legislature as an "equalization" measure to aid in the fight against school integration. It is difficult to see how the construction of additional school facilities for Negro pupils could have any effect whatever in this field. The U. S. Supreme Court in its unanimous decision last year outlawing school segregation stated specifically the "separate but equal" school facilities violate the American Constitution. The Court was implicit and emphatic in dealing with this point.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has announced that it plans to take legal action in every Southern State seeking to bring about public school integration. The problem has been placed by the U. S. high tribunal on the shoulders of federal district judges, but initially or later it no doubt will be before U. S. circuit courts.

On the recommendation of the Rainach Committee, the Legislature last year enacted a series of acts designed to preserve segregation in the public schools; and one of these, providing recourse to the State's police powers, may prove a really important weapon in the South's fight to retain power over its own educational machinery.

Super-Highways And Traffic Safety

Paul H. Blaisdell, traffic safety director of the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies, declared at a meeting of the Mid-Atlantic Highway Conference in Philadelphia that super-highways alone will not solve the problem of automotive accidents. To use his words:

"We do not have one single shred of evidence with our existing post-war creations in super-highways to support the promise that a better highway, alone and unaided, will greatly reduce our traffic accident experience."

Yet a network of superhighways supported by adequate traffic controls and enforcement might save 3,500 lives and 120,000 personal injuries annually, he added.

Statistics reveal that 78 per cent of all fatal vehicular accidents occur on straight roads, this nationally known traffic expert pointed out; the remaining 22 per cent occur on some combination of curve, turn, grade or bitterest. "Moreover, he continued, "the experience with our eastern turnpikes indicates that when the highway is engineered for safety we substitute other types of traffic accident for the variety common to the outmoded and more crowded highways and thus fail to keep the casualty toll at a high level."

Thus, by eliminating curves, the road builder may be a greater peril. By providing limited access to a superhighway, such as the great Pennsylvania Turnpike, he increases the number of accidents due to drowsiness and mental relaxation.

Mr. Blaisdell urged that larger appropriations be made for highway traffic regulation, and greater efforts to educate the public in safe driving practices be expended.

Postal Workers Get Salary Raise

The half-million field workers of the Post Office Department will receive salary raises averaging eight per cent under a bill signed Friday by President Eisenhower. The minimum increase is 6 per cent. The law is retroactive to March 1.

A reclassification system credited to the President as representing a great advance for postal employees is incorporated in the pay raise measure.

The new law will add $160 million annually to the department's payroll. Yet most American users of the postal employes a feeling of joy that this large group is being given a deserved increase in pay.

The Post Office Department and its numerous personnel exemplify a high standard of governmental service. Courtesy to the public, even under trying conditions,

Editor, Morning World:

Will you be kind enough to print the letter as a warning to the industrial world. This is a special warning to this free nation of ours. Freedom of enterprise, freedom of thought, freedom of speech! But, I do believe from the past 30 years of watching the growth of this nation and the abandonment of many useful things, that we have abused these freedoms.

First, freedom of speech ground, freedom of enterprise. If there ever was a time that the taxpayers should call on their statesmen to put a stop to de[illegible] many valuable things and running headlong into this atomic age, it is now. Great Britain's railroad strike is only an example of what shall happen to this country within the next 25 or 50 years. If ever that America has turned backward, in its wisdom and unbelief of the scripture God shall turn the wisdom of the wise backward 1 Cor. 1:19. To an example, Congress should never have allowed the railroad companies to abolish all of their steam engines. It left the coal miners without jobs, and the common class laborer will never learn anything about of motors.

Suppose there is an oil shortage or an oil field strike what will become of the railroad transportation which brings food to our people? Is the government not an encouragement to industry? World at large have been far better if the railroad companies, not to people the Pilone Central had let one-third of their steam engines running? This is a poor example for other railroads, which could have had saved the laboring people. If the coal companies or the oil companies to our cities the would have left the railroad companies independent. The use of fuel runs the industry of the railroad companies can be tied up unreasonably through the oil companies' control.

Clayton Author Blends Philosophy And Murder As A Successful Writer

By HAROLD CASE

CLAYTON, June 11 (Special) — Philosophy and murder may seem an unlikely combination, but Roman Miller McDougald — who could be living in Hollywood or New York but who prefers country life in Clayton to the hustle of big cities —has made it pay.

McDougald has written seven best selling mystery novels.

Living with his mother in a weather-beaten house among leafy shade trees, McDougald has been confined with ill health recently. However, he is past master of the Ferriday Lodge No. 390, F. and A. M., a member of the Royal Arch of Ferriday and a past worthy patron of the Ferriday Eastern Star, a colonel on Gov. Kennon's staff, and a member of Mystery Writers of America, Inc. He served in the Army during World War II.

He has spent his life in Clayton, though occasionally he and his mother talk of making California their home.

"As you know," says McDougald, "Universal - International bought movie rights to 'Purgatory Street' after it was serialized in Ladies' Home Journal; and so, having relatives there, my mother and I went off to Hollywood resolved to make it our home.

"My general idea of Hollywood? It is an enormously confusing place where many authors act like actors and actors act like authors. My agent warned me of the pitfalls into which an uninitiated author might fall, and my publisher wrote me a letter which seemed remarkably like a farewell note. It might have been a letter written to a Soviet dignitary who was on his way to "inspect Siberia."

Why these ominous foreboding? "I discovered that writers become literary zombies when they go on a studio payroll — living dead among the literati who perpetually react to the capricious and conflicting will of the producers, assistant producers, directors, assistant directors, and temperamental stars.

"These people are very well paid; and not infrequently — if they have robust bodies and strong nervous systems — they survive and retain their sanity to the ripe age of 50."

A few story conferences convinced McDougald that he was not fit for this regimentation.

A story conference, explains the author, consists of a group of nervous men walking up and down a large office talking to themselves a secretary, or to each other. "They must walk 10,000 miles," he said.

The screen writer's work consists of walking up and down an office alone, or he may talk with a secretary — usually a blond whose screen test has not turned out. Such secretaries think the word "cat" refers to the secretary in the next office.

For McDougald, screen writing proved too much for his nerves even though he tried redecorating his office with a brunette.

"The turning point came," McDougald said, "when I had lunch with two established movie writers. They ordered a pint of milk and a few soda crackers — which in that restaurant cost $1.50. So I asked myself, 'Do I really want to be a three-ulcer man?'

"So I came back to Louisiana, not exactly with a banjo on my knee, but with a firmer grip on my typewriter, my mental equilibrium and my life expectancy."

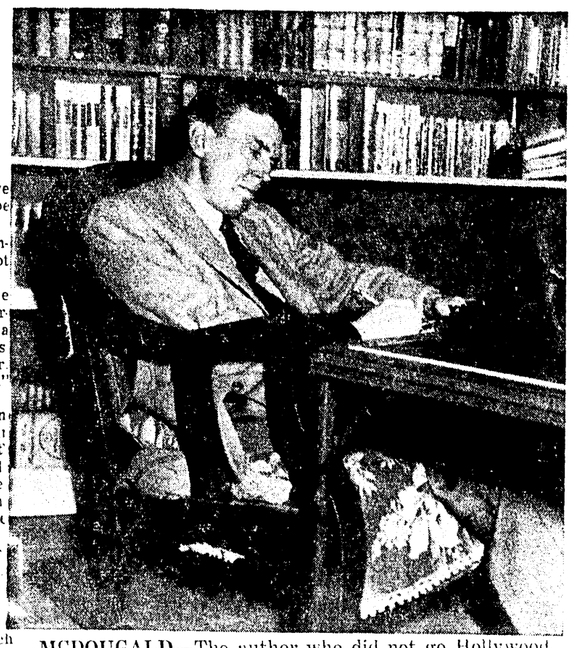
Conclusions on his Hollywood experiences: "I am forced to embrace the old cliche that some things are more important than money — sanity, for example; or even being able to eat Louisiana catfish instead of crackers and milk, the diet of the wealthy and successful in Hollywood."

McDougald is currently working on a book tentatively called "The Hostages." He also writes poetry but has never tried to sell any of his verses.

Writing mystery novels he calls work — "it calls for a person to shut himself up in his room alone and do nothing but think."

He said that ditchdigging would be easier and "I would dig ditches if there was as much money in it."

As for the mysteries themselves, McDougald points out: "There are numerous things I know more about than murder. I have never stumbled across a body weltering in its gore. In the unlikely event that I do, I'll probably run like hell."



MCDOUGALD—The author who did not go Hollywood.

First Cotton Bloom Is Reported In W. C.

CLEAR LAKE, June 11 (Secial) —The first reorted cotton bloom in West Carroll Parish was found Wednesday by R. M. Johnson of Clear Lake.

The bloom came from a 17-acre field of D&PL 14 variety and was lanted March 25. Johnson's farm is located on Boeuf River directly west of the Klein properties in Clear Lake.

Last year the first bloom was reported on J. H. Holder's farm at Oak Grove.

Rain Provides Basis For Price Of Grain Futures

CHICAGO June 11 (AP) — Rain hevered over the futures market on the Board of Trade this week like a janus-headed monster.

In one direction the downpour gave weather's last crushing blows to the winter wheat crop in Oklahoma and parts of nearby states. It was too late to help the drought-ridden areas.

And where early harvesting had already started the muddy and flooded fields retarded combining and truck movement.

Elsewhere the prolonged rainy spell was considered beneficial to the spring wheat crop and to those corn and soybeans areas where planting had been completed.

The upshoot was that nearby wheat contracts gained and distant deliveries which represent the spring crop lagged.

U. S. Auto Fuels Get Better

Higher Octane Ratings Expected For Gasoline

LOS ANGELES, June 11 (AP)—The day the American motorist can drive into his service station and say, "Fill 'er up with 100 octane, Mac," is just around the corner.

Oil industry research men say higher octane ratings will be as great a boon to drivers as tubeless tires and automatic transmissions.

In the 1920s, Pop could buy only octanes rated in the 50s for his runabout. Now his 1955 car, with its high compression engine, laps up premium gasoline in some parts of the country with ratings as high as 98.

Why the increase in octane numbers? How high will they go? And what do higher numbers mean to the car owners?

First, what is an octane number? Dr. W. E. Bradley and C. C. (Dinty) Moore, of refining research at Union Oil of California's multimillion dollar research center in Berea, Calif., says:

"An octane number is just a technical measure of the knocking characteristics of an engine.

"Normally the gasoline burns in an orderly fashion. However, when the fuel explodes, (instead of burning) the detonation is known as knocking. Under certain conditions the explosion can burn up the pistons and other metal."

The octane number merely measures how high the compression ratio of the engine can be increased before the gas explodes instead of burning normally.

Compression ratio, incidentally, is the ratio between the total volume in the cylinder when the piston is at the bottom of its stroke and the volume remaining above the piston when it is at the top of its stroke, Bradley explained.

In a high compression engine the piston exerts a bigger squeeze than the pistons in older low compression engines. This greater effort boosts combustion temperature and raises the engine's efficiency in converting gasoline into mechanical energy, he added.

In the 1920s, when the octane rating system was begun, compression ratios were around 4 to 1, and octane numbers of gasoline ranged in the 50s and 60s. They have climbed ever since.

Milestones include:

Tetraethyl lead went on sale in 1923, providing an element that controlled the rate of combustion in greater compression ratio engines.

In the 1920s came the process called thermal cracking, a term meaning the conversion of heavier gas oil fuels into gasoline.

Re-forming was another process in which gasoline of low octane was converted into fuel of high octane—just by rearranging the molecules through heat and pressure.

Finally, the most recent process is catalytic cracking, a means similar to thermal cracking but using an outside material, or catalyst, to convert heavy fuels to lighter ones.

Premium gas at 98 octane is now marketed in some areas, and 95 octane can be found at most premium pumps in the country, the researchers said. Compression ratios now range from 7.3 to 1 up to 9 to 1.

By 1965, oil industry leaders predict, premium gas will average around 100 octane and engine compression ratios will average nearly 10 to 1. With some engines as high as 12 to 1, the octane numbers may zoom to 105.

What will the motorist gain by zooming ratios and octane ratings?

"More horsepower for your car," says Bradley. "If you're a conservative driver and don't use the maximum horsepower, you'll get more miles to the gallon than without the extra horsepower. If you're not so conservative, then you'll get greater acceleration through all speeds, and the same number of miles to the gallon."

Cotton Futures, Except October, In Narrow Range

NEW YORK, June 11 (AP)—The Cotton futures market held to a narrow range this week except for the distant October contract, which declined sharply.

Net price changes recorded on the New York Cotton Exchange ranged from 5/8 cents a bale higher to 40 cents lower for futures contracts deliverable through July 1956. A net loss of $2.45 a bale was posted for the October 1956 contract.

Two chief reasons were advanced for the heavy selling pressure on distant October. One was the belief held by many traders that acreage allotments are likely to be substantially higher next year than now. The other was a general expectation that the government will set a lower support price for the 1956 crop. At week's end the distant October delivery recovered some of its earlier loss as shorts hurried to cover.

The balance of the list was depressed by continued reports of good weather in the cotton belt, coupled with word that Japan is seriously considering a cut of 200,000 bales in its cotton imports next season.

In commenting on the selling pressure that has accompanied the October 1956 contract ever since it started trading June 1, New York Cotton Exchange officials laid heavy emphasis on uncertainty among traders as to the prospective loan rate for 1956.

They pointed out that the U. S. Senate is considering legislation which would trim next year's loan rate by 2½ to 3 cents a pound.

Exports continued to lose ground this week. The season's total fell below the levels of a year ago for the first time since October.

Exchange officials estimated volume of cotton exports for the week ended Tuesday at 48,000 bales. That compares with 53,000 bales the previous week and 108,000 in the like week last year. The total for the season through June 7 is estimated at 3,198,000 bales. At the same time last year it was 3,210,000.

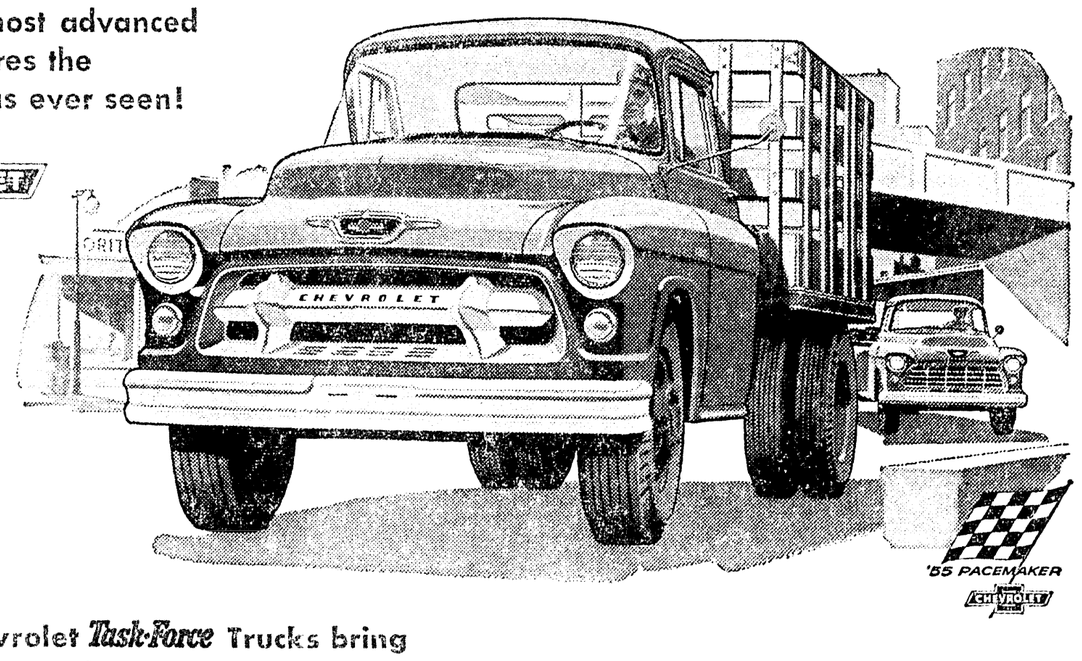
with the most advanced truck features the industry has ever seen!

CHEVROLET



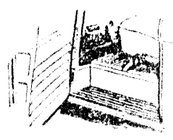
Only new Chevrolet Task-Force Trucks bring you the shortest stroke V8's in any leading truck and today's most advanced sixes—plus all these truly modern features!

They're the marks of a modern truck, and they out-date any make without them!

Beginning with Work-Styling, an entirely new development in truck design. For the first time in any line of trucks, Chevrolet brings you two styling treatments—one for light- and medium-duty models, another for heavy-duty jobs! Styling that's matched to the model and the job.

The latest in cab comfort and safety. Inside you can count on the same ultra-modern touch—softer seat action that reduces driver fatigue, and more durable construction throughout.

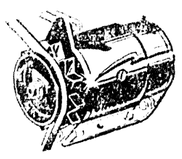
New concealed Safety Steps. Chevrolet's new Safety Steps are out of sight with the doors closed—stay clear of snow, ice or mud.



New panoramic windshield. For a wider, virtually unobstructed view of the road!

Fresh air in all kinds of weather. With new High-Level ventilation, air is drawn in through louvers at cowl level. That means air is constantly circulated through the cab, regardless of disagreeable weather conditions.

High-Voltage power—V8 or 6. The new lineup of Chevrolet truck engines includes the shortest stroke V8's in any leading truck, and most advanced sixes. All have a modern 12-volt electrical system—double the voltage for quicker, surer starting and more efficient spark plug firing.

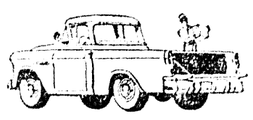


Tubeless tires standard on ½-ton models. Here's greater protection against blowouts.

Every Power Helper in the book. Power Brakes are standard equipment on 2-ton models, an extra-cost option on others. The new handling ease of Power Steering, another extra-cost option, cuts turning effort up to 80%.

There's new gas-saving Overdrive, as an extra-cost option on 1½-ton models . . . and truck Hydra-Matic on 3½-, 3¾- and 4-ton jobs.

The new Cameo Carrier. Long and low, with smooth, fleet lines, here's the Custom pickup that may well create a new class of truck owners!



One final word. When the time comes to trade in '55 models, the man without a really modern truck stands to take a good-sized loss. Come in and see us soon.

Medical Journalist To Be Heard Here

Albert Deutsch will be of the Northeast Branch of the Louisiana Association for Mental Health meeting Tuesday night through the medium of a tape recorder.

A tape recording of the talk which Deutsch gave at the Fifth Mental Health Assembly in New Orleans will be played at the meeting.

Deutsch is called by Time magazine "a power in U. S. medical journalism." In addition to several books, he has written many popular articles in leading magazines.

The title of Deutsch's talk will be "New Horizons in Mental Health."

Rev. W. H. McFadden president of the local organization, has urged everyone to be present and to come to hear the recording of the outstanding man's speech. He has also reminded those who have not sent in their dues and wish to do so may address their letters to P. O. Box 238, Monroe.

The meeting Tuesday night will be held at the United Gas Auditorium at 2809 Louisville beginning at 7:30.

Germans Reply To Russian Note

BONN, Germany, June 11 (UP)—The federal republic of West Germany, in its first official note to the Soviet Union, acknowledged the Russian bid to establish diplomatic relations and the invitation to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to visit Moscow, it was revealed Saturday.

Summer Session Registration At College Continues

Registration will continue Monday for the nine-week summer school at Northeast State, according to the registrar's office. Classes will meet for the first time Monday, following a two-day registration period which showed a considerable student increase over last summer's enrollment. Complete figures will be released at an early date.

Pupils whose applications have been accepted for the Summer Laboratory School will begin enrollment Tuesday at 8 a.m. in the Science Building, Miss Evelyn Otis, director of the school, announced.

No vacancies have occurred in the application, which were limited to 125, a larger group than could be cared for last year.

Laboratory School classes will be taught in the Science Building, with work beginning at 8 a.m. and ending at 11:30. The program will operate on a five-day schedule, Monday through Friday.

Pupils range from the first through eighth grade, and they will be taught under supervision of experienced instructors. Supervisory teachers include Mrs. Ernestine Cook, Mrs. Mary Lou Humphries, Miss Elizabeth Wright and W. Ross T. McDowell, all of Monroe.

These four teachers will meet Monday with the 25 student teachers to complete the program for the opening session of the Laboratory School. About 35 prospective teachers are planning to do observation and teaching during the summer term, Miss Otis said.

Besides the phase of Northeast's summer studies, several features are on the calendar for adult students. Conferences and workshops include those pertaining to school health problems, speech correction, teaching of reading, and Parent - Teacher Association leadership.

George Supports Jap-China Trade

WASHINGTON, June 11 (UP)—Sen. Walter F. George said Saturday Japan should be allowed to trade with Red China in all non-strategic materials to avoid "continued competition" against American producers.

The Georgia Democrat, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, said "I see no other way out for Japan without turning her into China and destructive competition with American manufacturers."

HARRY CLEMENT SCATTERDAY

BASTROP, June 11 (Special)—Harry Clement Scatterday, age 67, died at his home here early Saturday morning.

The body will remain at the residence until time for the funeral services, which will be announced later by the Hall Funeral Home.

He is survived by his wife, three brothers, Carl Seattle, Washington, Herbert, Lake Village, Ohio; and Chase of Chesterfield, Tenn.

Interment, under direction of Hall Funeral Home, will be in the Red Hill cemetery, near Mer Rouge.

ROBERT LEE AUBREY

FERRIDAY, June 11 (Special)—Robert Lee Aubrey, 62, died unexpectedly of a heart attack at a New Orleans hospital Wednesday. He was a resident of Clayton before becoming employed in New Orleans two years ago.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ann Aubrey; a daughter, Cynthia; a son, Bobby, of the U. S. Navy, and two brothers, William, Portland, Ore., and Besmer, of Idaho.

Funeral services were held at 5 p.m. Saturday at Indian Village Cemetery near Clayton with the Rev. Quinton Britt officiating. Interment was under the direction of Young's Funeral Home of Ferriday.

CHARLIE C. SALMON

TALLULAH, June 11 (Special)—Funeral services will be held Monday at Crothers Funeral Chapel, Tallulah, for Charlie C. Salmon, 56, formerly of Tallulah, who died Thursday night in a Monroe hospital, following a long illness.

Services will be conducted by Rev. W. E. Mayo.

Interment will be in the Silver Creek Cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Gertie Mae Salmon, Choudrant; one son, George Salmon, station with the U. S. Air Force in Maine, and one grandchild.

Salmon was a member of the Church of God and had lived in Tallulah for 22 years, prior to entering a Ruston hospital several years ago.

HOWARD PRESTON CAMPBELL

FERRIDAY, June 11 (Special)—Howard Preston Campbell, 80, of Parhams, died at the home of a son, Jonothan Campbell, in Natchez, Miss., late Friday. Death came after a long illness.

Funeral services were held at Young's Funeral Home Chapel in Ferriday at 5 p.m. today with the Rev. McNair officiating. Interment followed in the Harrisonburg cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Hattie Campbell; a son, Jonothan; a daughter, Mrs. Addie Burris, Vidalia; and a grandson.

Pallbearers were Hayden Ellis, Allen Miller, Elvin Dutchins, Nelson Fairbanks, Gene Rogillio, Warren Woods, Frank Parish and Leo Armstrong.

WILLIAM T. HARRIS

RAYVILLE, June 11 (Special)—Funeral arrangements are incomplete for T-Sgt. William T. Harris, 27, who was found dead at Loring Air Force Base, Limestone, Me., pending the arrival of the body here. Harris was found in the barracks of the 42nd, Air Refueling Squadron, where he is reported to have died from a blood clot on the brain.

The body is scheduled to arrive in Rayville, Tuesday. Simpson Funeral Home will be in charge of the arrangements.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Marie Tribble Harris of Limestone, Me., and the daughter of Mr. and Robert Tribble of Rayville; one son, William T. Harris, Jr., mother, Mrs. Annie Harris of Rayville; two brothers, Mack Parris, Rayville, and Nelson Harris of Buras, La.; two sisters, Mrs. Sidney Crawford, Rayville, and Mrs. Clarence Brashier, Gretna, La.

Motorist Arrested After Collisions On Louisville Ave.

With speed and efficiency that marks a good police department, Monroe officers yesterday arrested a Tampa, Fla., driver a few moments after he allegedly collided with two parked autos on Louisville avenue and left he scene of the accident without stopping.

According to the report of investigating officers, they received a call about noon that a car belonging to Ben Freeman, 1606 North Sixth street, was struck by a hit and run driver while it was parked in front of 309 Louisville avenue. When officers arrived at the scene, witness described the hit and run car and gave officers its license number.

A few minutes later, Jorge Cereceda, 49, of Tampa, Fla., was arrested by officers at the intersection of Louisville avenue and DeSiard road. He was taken to police headquarters.

While officers were in the process of booking Cereceda on charges of hit and run and reckless driving, David C. Bryan, 25, of 201½ Claiborne street, arrived at the police station and reported that his auto also had been struck by the Floridian's car.

Bond for Cereceda was set at $500.

Sewerage District Formation Bid To Be Given Council

An ordinance setting up a new sewerage district to be known as "District D" and providing for the appointment of commissioners to serve the new district will probably be presented to the Monroe Commission Council at the council's regular meeting Tuesday, city attorney Wood Thompson said yesterday.

Thompson said he hoped and expected to have the ordinance ready for the council to act upon Tuesday. The ordinance creating the district would become effective after 30 days and the necessary publications in newspaper.

Although a petition for the district has already been circulated, it may be necessary because the previous one did not describe the proposed district.

The district would cover a portion of the south side of town including parts of South Fifth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth and Tenth from Plum Street to Winnsboro Road and from Fifth Street to Eighth street.

Long Takes Issue With Hoover On Electric Groups

LAFAYETTE, La., June 11 (AP) — Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La) said today he disagreed with the Hoover Commission's proposal to modify rural electric associations.

Long spoke to the Southwest Louisiana Electric Corporation, one of the world's largest electric cooperatives.

"I consider the REA and the rural cooperatives a principal instrument for continuing to insure that the marvelous benefits of the electrical age, and the atomic age which is almost upon us, will reach our farm families promptly and at the least possible cost," Long said.

The group, holding its 18th annual meeting, re-elected all officers and board members.

Two Mississippi Colleges Refute Left-Wing Charge

JACKSON, Miss., June 11 (AP)—Two Mississippi colleges today denied charges they are teaching "left-wing tendencies" and thinking.

The denials came in answer to the charge levied by Bill Simmons of Jackson, administrator of the Association of Citizens Councils of Mississippi, during a press conference Thursday.

Simmons said students at the University of Mississippi and at Millsaps College in Jackson were being taught thinking he said is away from the state's traditions of social, educational and religious segregation of the races.

The Citizens Councils were organized to help keep segregation despite a U. S. Supreme Court ruling to the contrary.

Chancellor J. D. Williams of the University of Mississippi said he had not noticed any left-wing tendencies at the university. "We are not in the propaganda business" he said. "We don't exercise thought control."

Dr. Ellis Finger, president of Millsaps, said virtually the same thing:

Giles Indicted On New Charges In Land Frauds

CRYSTAL CITY, Tex., June 11 —UP— Indictment of Former Land Commissioner Bascom Giles on Zavala county grand jury charges [illegible]

[illegible] Land Program.

Eleven of the [illegible] indictments, [illegible] and warrants were issued Saturday.

Giles was charged in three indictments with agreeing to accept bribes in connection with [illegible] land transaction involving Zavala and Dimmit counties and Crystal City Attorney J. Paul Lattle was charged with aiding the three bribes. The indictments [illegible] the often [illegible] Nov. 23, 1953.

Three indictments [illegible] were returned against C. F. Kessler of Yoakum, alleging bribery in connection with a land sale.

Action by the Zavala county grand jury brought to 38 the total number of indictments returned by grand juries in nine Texas counties in connection with the veterans land scandals. The counties are Bexar, Calhoun, DeWitt, Dimmitt, Guadalupe, Kleberg, Travis, Victoria and Zavala.

The indictments against Giles alleged he agreed to accept bribes of $26,000, $15,000 and $8,000.

Conviction on a charge of agreeing to accept a bribe carries penalties of from two to 10 years in prison. Conviction of offering a bribe provides penalties of from two to five years in prison. Five to 20 years in prison is provided upon conviction for both acts.

The new indictments, returned Friday by the Zavala county grand jury, boosted to 30 the number against Giles. The three indictments against Kessler pushed the total returned again to four to 56, while Little now has been indicted five times.

Shreveport Man Killed In Crash At Rail Crossing

SHREVEPORT, La., June 11—UP— Thomas R. DeYoung, 41, of Houston, Tex., didn't know it, but one Louisiana drivers don't stop for three red and white signs at railroad tracks saying, "Louisiana Law: Stop."

DeYoung, clipped at one 15 miles south of Shreveport last night, [illegible] Stanley G. Williams, 43, Shreveport, rammed into the rear of his car. Williams was thrown out and crushed to death by an oncoming car driven by Grady Maxwell, 43, of Orange, Tex.

DeYoung's wife had commented before he stopped, "That seems like a bad law, someone might run into us."

Pope Urges Oil Rich Nations To 'Share Wealth'

VATICAN CITY, June 11—UP— Pope Pius XII urged the world's oil-rich nations, in a speech made public Saturday, to share their wealth with less favored peoples.

The pope made his plea Friday in a speech from his golden throne in the Vatican Hall of Benedictions to delegates attending a world petroleum congress in Rome.

He astonished the delegates by his understanding of highly technical details of the oil industry.

The pope also praised the attempt of the industry to better its human relations.

"It is important that the men who work in the industry put all the resources of their initiative at the disposal of their employers," the pope said.

"But they will not be led to do this unless the enterprise first takes care to respond to those profound human needs which can not be satisfied merely by a just salary or high esteem for professional competence."

Ike, Government Workers To Evacuate

50 Cities To Participate In Biggest Test Alert

EDITOR'S NOTE — The government will stage its biggest civil defense test next week, with President Eisenhower among those shifting quickly to secret relocation centers. The following United Press dispatch describes how the operation will be carried out.

By JOHN L. CUTTER

WASHINGTON, June 11 —UP— What would happen if enemy planes began raining atomic bombs on 50 American cities, including Washington, the nation's nerve center?

Government planners hope to get some idea next week with "Operation Alert, 1955," the biggest civil defense test ever tried. It starts at 10 a.m. CST June 15 and continues through Friday, June 17.

At the sound of the sirens, President Eisenhower and 15,000 government employes will scurry out of town to secret emergency relocation centers from which they will direct government affairs the next two days.

What happens in the other "stricken" cities depends on the pattern of local civil defense plans.

Purpose of the exercise is to test the readiness of civil defense in critical target cities and get some experience in carrying on warcessential functions of the federal government in case the real thing ever comes.

It will be assumed that the Air Defense Command has identified aggressor aircraft winging toward critical target areas in the Northeast, the Middle West and the Pacific Coast. A warning will be flashed through the civil defense communications network. The sirens will begin to wail at 10:05 a.m. CST.

In the Washington area, it will be the signal for President Eisenhower, cabinet members and more than 227,000 federal employes to leave their desks.

Most of them will go no farther than adjacent parking lots. Then they go back to work, or to lunch.

For the President, top officials and selected employes of 31 department and agencies, it marks the beginning of a new experience in mock warfare.

Traveling mostly by private automobile, they are under orders to proceed immediately to 31 previously chosen emergency centers scattered over a radius of 30 to 300 miles. Exact locations, including Mr. Eisenhower's hide-away, are secret.

Some are on government owned property, including military installations not regarded as primary targets. Some are in college towns, where dormitories and dining halls are available.

At least one "tent city" is included. There the relocated workers will eat, sleep and work under [illegible] as though they were on Army field exercise.

Once at the relocation centers, the real work begins. A special communication system will keep the President in touch with the far-flung departments and agencies.

Six Southern States Hold Firm On Stand Against Racial Integration

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Six Southern states Saturday appeared to be holding firm in their determination to circumvent the U.S. Supreme Court decisions outlawing public school segregation.

But in eight other states, where separate white and Negro schools have been traditional, there were signs pointing toward varying degrees of compliance with the courts order to make a start toward integration.

The Supreme Court on May 17, 1954 ruled that separation of students solely on the basis of race is illegal. Last May 31, it ordered an end to segregation as soon as feasible, taking local conditions into account.

In the 10 days since that ruling the picture does not appear to have changed in Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina and Virginia. The prevailing attitude of legislators and officials in these states is to resist or try to sidestep the decisions if possible.

In the other states, however, some steps—tentative and hesitant though they were in many cases—have been taken toward integration.

In Florida, the state superintendent advised local boards to name biracial committees to study integration. But a new state law gives local boards final authority to assign pupils, a power that could be used to resist integration.

Arkansas, Tennessee and Texas expect some integration and some resistance, particularly in areas with a heavy Negro population.

North Carolina is marking time, but the Asheville School Board will make an "honest effort" to comply with the court decree.

Kentucky, Maryland and Oklahoma are moving toward early compliance in all but possibly a few areas.

The principal development in the segregation situation since the May 31 ruling was the June 4 meeting of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People in Atlanta.

By calling on local school boards to initiate steps toward integration before the next school term or face court action, the NAACP likely delayed another showdown on the problem until September.

That at least is the case in Georgia, where Gov. Marvin Griffin, armed with statutory power to withhold funds from mixed schools, is awaiting the next move of the NAACP. He takes the position that Georgia is not yet affected by the court ruling.

The situation is much the same in South Carolina. Both states have taken legal steps to pave the way for setting up a private school system. And in Clarendon County, S.C., one of the five involved in the cases before the Supreme Court, school officials say they will close the schools next term rather than integrate.

Virginia's Prince Edward County, another of those directly involved in the court decisions, already has cut off money for operation of schools. And the Virginia Commission on Public Education Friday recommended that the state continue to operate all schools on a segregated basis in the 1955-56 year.

Alabama, Louisiana and Mississippi are actively planning resistance.

Alabama senators are studying a student placement bill similar to Florida's law as a means of circumventing the segregation decision and the legislature has before it a 150-million-dollar bond proposal to equalize white and Negro school facilities.

Segregation leaders recently mapped secret strategy plans in Louisiana where voters have instructed the state to use its police powers to enforce segregation. In Mississippi, a state-created legal advisory committee is preparing to aid the attorney general in fighting segregation cases, while Citizens' Council groups are whipping up white sentiment for racial separation.

The official attitude of Kentucky, Maryland and Oklahoma has been to comply with the final ruling. They are now moving in that direction with little indication of serious opposition.

The Arkansas and Texas situations are similar—integration may prove relatively easy in their western sections with smaller Negro populations, but more difficult in the East. There have been one or two instances of integration in each state.

With the official attitude one of silence in Tennessee, Davidson County (Nashville) has directed its chairman and superintendent to work out desegregation plans with a biracial committee. And NAACP leader Alexander Looby predicted some but "no wholesale" integration.

State by state picture includes:

Alabama—A Senate subcommittee is studying a bill by Sen. Sam Engelhardt of Macon County to set up a strong placement system giving placement boards in each county almost unlimited authority to assign students to school. Boards could consider such factors as whether assignment would upset "long established friendship and place, pupil in hostile surroundings from which his former friends and associates are completely missing," and whether it would "cause or tend to cause a breach of the peace, riot or affray."

Arkansas—Wiley Branton of Pine Bluff, chairman of the legal redress committee, reports NAACP preparing to send letters to 226 Arkansas school districts which have Negroes and to Gov. Orval Faubus and other officials. They will ask for meetings as soon as possible to discuss desegregation. State officials declined comment.

Florida—State Supt. Thomas D. Bailey believes desegregation problems must be handled at the local level and that there can be no statewide approach.

Georgia—Georgia is doing nothing toward integration, awaiting the first move from the NAACP.

Kentucky—A committee appointed by the governor is now studying how to put desegregation into effect in Kentucky.

Louisiana — Segregation leaders on June 7 mapped "specific and general plans" to circumvent the Supreme Court decision, but declined to disclose them "for strategic reasons."

Sen. W. M. Rainach, chairman of the Joint Legislative Segregation Committee, said "we will fight to preserve our laws and institutions with every weapon at our command."

NAACP attorney A. P. Tureaud has written Atty. Gen. Fred LeBlanc asking action in a suit for admission of Negroes to St. Helena Parish white schools. The suit was filed in 1952, charging inadequate facilities for Negroes, but was delayed pending the Supreme Court ruling.

State strategy in this suit also was discussed at the June 7 meeting of segregation leaders.

Gov. Robert Kennon Friday vetoed a 33½ million dollar matching fund to build schools, which segregation forces said was necessary to equalize white and Negro facilities.

Maryland — Baltimore schools have been integrated since last fall and most of the state's 23 county school boards have set up committees to study integration problems. Two have acted.

Mississippi — Two organizations are working to prevent integration in Mississippi. They are the state-created Legal Education Advisory Committee and the Assn. of Citizens Councils in Mississippi.

Resolving to carry out the intent of its creation that "so far as it lies within the committee's power, there will be no integration . . . no compromise," the committee has retained State Rep. Ney Gore as full time secretary. He has a blanket order to do all things necessary to supply LEAC with ammunition to be used in fighting segregation cases.

Robert Patterson of Winona, executive secretary, and Bill Simmons of Jackson, administrator, claim the citizens councils have 55,000 members in 253 chapters. Simmons said the groups "are organized to maintain segregation by peaceful and legal means" and to use every legal resource to resist attempts at breaking it down.

He charged the Mississippi "way of life which we have lived under because our society is based on segregation, was threatened to attack by men who are trained revolutionaries. We banded together for protection."

Simmons also said another purpose of the organization is "to have some organization to withstand the NAACP and other powerful pressure groups" which work on courts and politicians.

At a rally in Canton Wednesday, sponsored by the citizens councils, all five candidates for governor promised to preserve segregation.

North Carolina — The Asheville school board has announced a policy of making an "honest effort" toward complying with the Supreme Court decision.

Tenne see—The Davidson County (Nashville) school board had elected its chairman and county superintendent to work out desegregation plans with a biracial committee to be named by the chairman.

Negro Child In Urgent Need Of Skin Donations

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 11—UP—The life of a five-year-old Negro girl at St. Anthony hospital cannot be saved unless someone appears quickly with an offer of skin grafts, a hospital spokesman said Saturday.

The child is Margaret Rose Thomas, daughter of Mrs. Rosetta Thomas. She has been in the hospital since being burned March 2 when her dress caught fire at her home. Her burns extend from her chin to her thighs.

Students Gather Before Hotel To Protest Shivers

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., June 11—UP—Students from six southern California colleges demonstrated Saturday against Texas Gov. Allan Shivers as speaker at University of Southern California commencement exercises.

The group of more than 100 gathered about 9 a.m. PDT (10 a.m. CST) in front of the Beverly Hills hotel where the governor was staying. Students paraded in single-file carrying placards.

The demonstration was orderly. Several cars of police were on Sunset Blvd., standing by.

Shivers, who has been opposed by the USC student senate because of "racist anti-integration action and ideas," went by the demonstration in his car headed for Los Angeles. There were several shouts but students continued to remain in their orderly picket line.

Some of the signs read: "Let's give Shivers a chilly reception: "We shiver at the thought of you," and "Graduation is a time for cheer, Shivers gives it a tone of fear."

The students were from UCLA, USC, Los Angeles State College, Los Angeles City College, Valley Junior College and Pepperdine.

Turncoat GI To Marry Russian Girl At Peiping

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 11—UP—The mother of one American soldier who cast his lot with the Communists after being captured in Korea disclosed Saturday her son hopes to marry a Russian girl at Peiping, China, this summer.

Former Pfc Samuel David Hawkins, one of 21 U. S. GI's who turned down a chance to come home after the Korean truce, wrote that his would-be bride is an employe of the Russian embassy in Peiping.

Mrs. Carlee Jones Hawkins' mother said her 21-year-old son appears happy and content. His letters, apparently uncensored, tell of his activities as a university student in the Chinese capital.

Hawkins was 17 and had been in Korea two months when he was captured. Unlike Otho G. Bell, Olympia, Wash., another of the turncoats, Hawkins has not shown any interest in returning home.

Mrs. Jones said Bell's change of heart hasn't been mentioned by Hawkins. Bell has a 21-year-old wife and four-year-old child at Olympia.

Sports Edge Bucks, 4-3, In 11 Innings

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

See where the state attorney general's office got into the act, however late, by ruling that the Twin Cities Sports can't give away prizes to fans attending their Monroe games. Scorecard advertisers, sometime back, had been giving away merchandise gratis, but since the fans had been paying a dime for the scorecards, the legal minds ruled they were participating in a lottery.

Well before the state ruling the past week, the operators of the ball club had discussed the prize situation with their own district attorney, and, on his advice, ceased to give away the merchants' donations.

The scorecards are still selling good and the crowds at Legion Memorial Stadium are just as big. And the dime is still being collected for the cards, but the fans can't take home any donated loot.

We hear of raids right frequently these days by Grevemberg's state troopers. They've stopped a lot of gambling or lotteries and other vices. But you can still bet your two bucks on a horse if you'll go to the race track to do it. We've got nothing against the horse racers as long as they play 'em straight. But a baseball fans paying a dime for a scorecard (we don't know of a park that gives them away) which offers merchandise for a lucky holder can't be classed in the same bracket with the guy with a hot tip on a nag.

There are legislative limits to where Grevemberg's long arm can reach and what the state attorney general can say. They're legislated off the race tracks. They can tell you what to do with your dime scorecards, but you can bet as much as you want on the horses.

Legislators who approve horse race gambling and decry merchants giving away something for nothing except good will for their hometown ball clubs have crossed some wires somewhere.

L. J. Fox, Ruston's "baseball oldtimer" who heads the Big Eight League, has his circuit operating on its usual fast scale for an amateur loop, and we expect to hear that big league scouts are again active in his territory soon. Talent hunters regularly take their toll from the Big Eight composed of Bastrop, Farmerville, Ruston, Bernice, Minden, and Homer.

President Fox recently sent out notices to his clubs advising them to speed up their games wherever possible. He made his suggestions for faster games after watching a three-hour plus contest.

Longer games appear to be general hereabouts, and the amateurs are not alone. The Cotton States League is taking much more time to get its games played with bases on balls, pitchers working batters to full counts etc. doing much to stretch out the innings.

In 21 league games played here by the Twin Cities Sports, none have been as short as two hours, and that includes a pair of seven-inning contests. The fastest regulation nine-inning affair was 2:10 and the next shortest went 2:18. Several have been right at and beyond three hours. And the seven-inning scraps? One was 2:06 and the other 2:40.

Bronstad Pitches Distance; Hantak, Rippili Bat Stars

GREENVILLE, Miss., June 11 (Special)—The Twin Cities Sports, behind the seven hit pitching of Jim Bronstad, defeated the Greenville Bucks here tonight in an 11-inning tussle, 4-3.

Bronstad, turning in a superb mound performance, gave up two hits in the first, both harmless, then breezed through the Buck lineup for the next seven frames, facing only three men in each inning with the exception of the fifth when an error permitted a Greenville "life". He also collected the first Twin Cities hit, and scored the first and only run of the game until the Bucks not ninth, when a double and single scored the tying tally.

In the eleventh, Roy Mantle walked, moved to second on a free pass to Marshall Gilbert, took third on a wild pitch, and scored on a single by Ed Rippili. Both the latter and Gilbert rode home on Bob Hantak's triple to left center that made the score 4-3.

The Bucks fought back with two runs in the bottom of the eleventh, both unearned after an error at short, but the rally was cut off when Bronstad retired the final batter on a fly to center.

Verel Hamilton hurled the entire route for the Buck, also giving up seven hits.

Mat Girls Featured In Mixed Tag Bout Tues.

The girl grapplers feature the Kallio wrestling card Tuesday night at the Arena, when Ethel Collins and Verne Bottoms appear in a tag team main event with male partners Rex Mobley and Red Roberts.

Ethel, who pairs with Mobley; and Miss Bottoms, Roberts' partner, have neither wrestled here previously. The former is from Cleveland, Ohio; and Verne hails from Nashville, Tenn.

Mobley, who defeated Vicksburg's Henry Harrell here three years ago to win the light heavyweight crown, which he later lost in a Shreveport match, has not appeared on the local mat for many months. He was usually a fan - favorite here, and his pet hold, the rolling leg - spread, more popularly known as a rolling crab hold, has never been duplicated here. With the hold, he won the title from Harrell, and successfully used it on most opponents with the exception of Jack Curtis. Mobley is from Texas City, Tex.

His tag opponent Tuesday, Roberts, is a shaven - headed husky, who is known as "Red" because it was his nickname for the usual reason until he entered the professional mat sport.

A short match between Mobley and Roberts will precede the main event.

Swaps Registers Californian Win

ENGLEWOOD, Calif., June 11 (AP)—Kentucky Derby champion Swaps stepped out of his class against older horses today and scored a knockout victory in world record time in the $169,800 California Derby at Hollywood Park.

Winning by a length and a quarter over little Determine, the 1954 Kentucky Derby winner, the California - bred Swaps charged across the line in the mile and one-sixteenth battle in the time of 1:40 2-5.

The Llangollen farm's Master [illegible] the pace-setter, finished a [illegible] third in the thrilling feature before 50,000 roaring fans.

Defying [illegible] his seventh straight victory, the [illegible] Swaps, sporting 3-year-old [illegible] clipped two-fifths of a second off the world record set last year by Poona II at Santa Anita.

Swaps was the odd-on betting favorite. He returned $5.20, $2.60 and $2.20. Determine paid $5.00 and $2.60, and Master Gus $2.40.

Farmerville 8-5 Winner In Legion Tilt With Ruston

FARMERVILLE, La., June 11—(Special) The Farmerville American Legion Juniors clubbed out 11 hits to beat Ruston, 8-5, yesterday on the combined four-hit pitching of Spillers, Wheeler and Redden, but the Ruston boys made it mighty hot for the locals as two of the Ruston hits were home runs, one a grand slam poke by Dyson in the fourth inning. Hunt hit a Ruston homer in the fifth.

Fielding gems by catcher Skinner and third baseman Wayne Tubbs boosted Farmerville stock. Skinner, catching the first game of his career, fielded three bunts perfectly and threw out runners. Tubbs handled nine chances at third without a bobble and started two double plays.

Leading Farmerville hitters were Green with two doubles, Skinner, with a triple and a single, and Albritton with a triple and a double.

Bisplinghoff Bid Foiled In French Golf Finals

By HARVEY HUDSON

PARIS, June 11 (AP)—Don Bisplinghoff's bid for the French Amateur golf title ended abruptly today as the big, blonde kid from Orlando, Fla., bumped into France's Henri de Lamaze in the finals and took a 5 and 4 licking.

It was the second time that Bisplinghoff, who came to Europe as one American golf authority said he was as good as any of the Walker Cup players, had fallen short of his goal. He was knocked out in the quarter-finals of the British Amateur last week.

Bisplinghoff, who grew up near a golf course and has been playing golf since he was [illegible] years old, won the Southern Amateur and Miller Cup [illegible] this year. He was the [illegible] to come to Europe [illegible] the American Walker Cup [illegible]

Redskins Break Deadlock In 9th To Triumph, 7-6

CLEVELAND, June 11 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians snapped a four-game losing streak today, beating the New York Yankees 7-6 as Jim Hegan scored on Bob Avila's single with two out in the last of the ninth inning.

Hegan had singled to open the ninth, for the first hit off losing pitcher Johnny Kucks, who came on the sixth inning and had set the Indians down in order until the ninth.

A sacrifice by Art Houtteman, the winning pitcher, sent Hegan to second and he took third on Al Smith's grounder.

Neyman Up Front; Gilbert Rates Strong All Round

By J. P. FRIEND
Cotton States Statistician

Continuing his terrific pounding, El Dorado's Lee Neyman took a firmer grip on the Cotton States League batting lead last week. The Oiler star shortstop cracked out 13 hits in 29 times at bat to up his mace mark 16 points to .377 and extend his loop supremacy. He also has the most hits, 57, in 157 times at bat with 11 doubles, three triples and 17 runs batted in.

Bernie Tomicki, Pine Bluff returnee, is hitting at a dazzling .475 clip but has appeared in only 40 times at bat in 13 games, compared to Neyman's 39 contests.

Jim Davenport, the former Mississippi Southern luminary, almost matched his teammate to take over the runnerup spot. Blasting 13 safeties in 31 chances, including three doubles and a pair of homers, Davenport netted 40 points to .365. He shows 104-38 through Tuesday night when the current period ended.

Neil Holloway continues to assault pitchers after three weeks with the Vicksburg Billies. In 18 games he has .344 to show for his plate efforts, 25-9 during the last period for a 11-point boost and the No. 3 position.

Monroe's Marshall Gilbert came within one decimal of his previous pace to hold on to fourth place with .340. An early pace setter, Gilbert rates high in all departments with 153-52. He has 12 doubles, one triple and six homers, plus 39 runs batted in and 34 scored.

Bob Shipman, ace of the Twin City Sports, whipped Hot Springs Tuesday night for his fifth straight win without a defeat and put him out in front of the pitching brigade. He also thumped Greenville during the week to break the mound deadlock with George Bielik, El Dorado, who downed the Sports Saturday night for win No. 4. He has not been beaten, either.

El Dorado dominates both club departments. The Oilers are hitting .286 and fielding .960. Monroe is just behind the Oilers by one point in batting. Hot Springs is second defensively with .956.

Runaway Brooks Tag Bruins With 4 To 3 Setback

BROOKLYN, June 11 (AP)—Brooklyn's runaway Dodgers opened up a 10½ game lead in the National League race today with a 4-3 victory over Chicago on Duke Snider's seventh inning home run—the club's fourth of the day. It was the Dodger's sixth straight triumph and their 12th in the last 14 games.

Snider's 18th homer into the left field seats broke a 3-3 tie in a game that was delayed in starting by rain, twice interrupted, and finally finished under lights more than four hours after it was supposed to have begun.

Nashua 9-Length Victor

By JOHN CHANDLER

NEW YORK, June 11 (AP)—Mighty Nashua toyed with his field for about a mile today, then turned on the steam with a brilliant rush and pulled away to a nine - length victory in the 87th running of the $119,800 Belmont Stakes.

It was like taking candy away from seven other kids as jockey Eddie Arcaro piloted the strapping big Belair stud colt under the wire in the second fastest time ever hung up for this third jewel in the turf's triple crown for 3-year-olds.

Nashua was clocked in 2:29 on a fast track just four fifths of a second off the record for the mile and one-half race.

Nine lengths, back in second place came the Barclay Stable's Blazing Count, whose daddy was Count Fleet, a 25-length winner of the 1943 Belmont Stakes. Count Fleet established the Belmont Stakes record of 2:28 1-5 and this was equalled in 1948 when Citation copped this big classic.

Third across the line in the cloudy, misty afternoon was the Clearwater Stable's Portersville, five and one-half lengths back of Blazing Count. Jabneh, the dark horse in the race who was purchased only Thursday by Eugenia Bankhead, was fourth, six more lengths behind Portersville.

As predicted, there was a big minus show pool as Nashua went off a prohibitive 3-20 favorite and returned his backers in the crowd of 32,097 just $2.30, $2.30 and $2.10 across the board. In order to give bettors five cents back on the dollar as required by New York racing law, the minus show pool was $14,411.55.

The landlocked salmon does not like warm or tainted water. The in the lakes he inhabits must be pure and deep.

Ty Cobb made five or more hits in a game 14 times during his major league career. This is an all-time high.

Let's "talk turkey" about

URANIUM!

Mythology is certainly playing its part in the unscrupulous promotion of many so-called "uranium mines." Some successful offerings have recently been made which had little more uranium potential than point in the same state as a known producer!

Truthfully, we're not interested in mythology. We're much more intrigued by this opportunity to "talk turkey" about uranium mining as practiced by CONSOLIDATED URANIUM MINES, INC. This Company is still our choice and the choice of a selected group of investors who can look a good risk in the face and say, "This speculation has growth profit possibilities."

And the reason they think so is well substantiated by the fact that Consolidated has ... increased its ore production more than eight times in four years of operation.

... mined 183,241 dry tons of uranium ore in its brief but active corporate life.

... received $3,458,559 for its uranium production.

... mined 37,156 dry tons of uranium ore in just the first three months of the present fiscal year commencing August 1, 1954.

... continued developmental work on certain tungsten properties which are now expected to commence commercial production early in 1955!

A few other facts may demonstrate why we and approximately 25,000 other stockholders feel that Consolidated Common Stock will offer the robust growth which makes the employment of speculative venture capital worthwhile.

Consolidated has mined practically all of its uranium tonnage from a mere 100 of the more than 80,000 acres owned or under lease! Although nobody can predict that the tonnage figures shown above can be multiplied by 800, even a greatly decreased extraction rate still leaves a basis for fascinating speculation.

So don't delay another day—get the facts, then make your decision. Chances are your judgment will be the same as ours: A stock purchase of Consolidated Uranium Mines should be one of today's best opportunities to watch a small amount of money really grow!

Ask for a copy of this company's latest financial Report showing its balance sheet and comparative statements of income and retained earnings for 1953 and 1954.

LADIES SPECIAL

The Physical Culture Salon now offers the summer reducing course. This course was taken last summer by 40 satisfied customers. They offer the best known and most satisfactory method of reducing. The summer special is a one month course, including the use of 4 mechanically reducing machines reducing every part of the body, the Slendro Massager, especially good for the upper legs, hips and waist and The Howard Steam baths for opening the pores of the skin, letting out Toxic poisons, increasing circulation and elemination. SPECIAL NOTICE—These machines do the work for you. There is no exertion on your part. They not only reduce, but firm the flesh, so there is no sagginess left. This system is used by most of the movie fans and recognized as the best. COMPARE PRICES . . Physical Culture Salon—25 hours of reducing $25. Other places . . 12½ hours - - $25. If you have bursitis, neuritis, sciatica, headaches or any other aches or pains. The Physical Culture Salon offers special treatments with massage and heat therapy for the sum of $1 to the above taking courses. SPECIAL GUARANTEE—The Physical Culture Salon has so much faith in the method used that it guarantees you will lose weight or inches during a course of 12 treatments. If you fail to, you will continue to receive treatments free of charge until you do. This is the only reducing Salon giving a guarantee like that. Make your reservation . . . Call and make your appointment. Ph.: 9628, 2-0490.

ANNOUNCING—THE FASTEST TWINE-TIE
BALER IN THE WORLD!

New Super "77" bales up to 12 tons an hour—and more—in field tests on private farms!

New Holland proudly introduces the Super "77"—the new baler for the farmer or custom operator who puts a premium on capacity.

Design is based on the time tested features of the famous Model 77, America's most widely used baler. The big increase in tons per hour is made through 22 new improvements to cut friction, reduce power waste.

Result? A Super "77" will outbale any other twine tie or wire-tie, regardless of condition.

To demonstrate this, New Holland engineers ran production models of the Super "77" in field tests on private farms in all parts of the United States throughout the '54 season. Again and again the Super "77" baled 12 tons an hour! Under good field conditions, results were even higher.

See us for full details. We can show you a full line of balers to fit your farm and budget requirements.

1003 PARKWOOD

THIS ONE "takes the cake" for quality of construction, unusual features and a splendid location in W. Monroe! It's brand new with the following features: 2 roomy bedrooms with sliding door closets; it's brick with insulation in walls and ceiling; has beautiful oak floors throughout; 2 attic fans; den that enlarges into living room by a folding door; a stunning green tile bath; an attractive kitchen with built-in breakfast nook; double garage, central heat; and it's on a well - shaded 100'x150' lot. The price is $17,000 and we'll gladly show today!

2310 SOUTH GRAND

THERE'S A lot of good livin' within the confines of this spacious home! It has a 15x21 living room (with a real fireplace) . . . separate dining room and a separate breakfast room . . . two 13x15 bedrooms . . . side and rear screened porch . . . 75'x155' lot and a carport! It's selling for FHA appraised value of $11,000 and $1400 down makes the move!

101 ADA

NESTLED AMONG the trees is this nifty green asbestos three bedroom home! This brand new home is priced $11,500 and has many attractive features to offer: living room has cork tile floors (rest is asphalt tile); kitchen with plenty of cabinets, half plastic tile, formica cabinet tops and a bar that separates the kitchen and dining area (9x13); central heating and 36" automatic shutter fan; ½ block to school. We like to show this one — how 'bout calling!

1807 MILTON

PACE - SETTING! Luxurious! Imposing! Unique! Unsurpassed! Unrivaled! What we're trying to say is that we've got one heck'uva new 2-bedroom, bath and a half home in Marie Place that combines the following matchless features among its square footage: hardwood block floors throughout; tile bath and a half; central heating; factory built hardwood cabinets in kitchen; all closet doors are louvered; carport with storage and a back screened porch; natural woodwork throughout and planter box in living room. It's just a block to Lexington Grammar and it's priced at $15,000.

3600 BLANKS

GRACIOUS, IT'S spacious! Spacious indeed! But that's not all, for among the 2,582 square feet of this impeccable home are the following: six rooms (or bedrooms); bath, a cute and cozy screened porch; nice oak floors throughout; 80x150' lot. It's ideally located for a large home for the man with a large family, or it's nicely suited for a large duplex. It's priced at $14,950 and we'll gladly show today!

1606 GEORGIA

YOU'LL ADMIT it's the most inviting 2-bedroom you ever set foot in! The reasons: Here are a few: Large living room; a large kitchen with washer plumbing; cozy dining; all the closets; spacious attic fan and floor furnace; immaculate oak floors throughout; back yard has screened patio; attractive mid-Kirby location at $8950 with $895 down! It's vacant!

308 FILHIOL

$600 DOWN ON FHA makes a "good" move to this well-maintained home in an excellent neighborhood! Among the 1250 sq. feet are 3 bedrooms, separate dining and utility room, front & central heat, recessed tub, kitchen with Formica counter tops, plywood, air cooled space and pine-panelled breakfast area 2 bedrooms, attic fan and detached garage! You won't look twice!

1210 SOUTH 2ND

WE'LL GO without the opportunity of showing you this p. m.! A cute, neat 2 bedroom home on the Bayou! It has 2-13'x13' bedrooms, tile bath and a nice roomy large living room and a separate dining room, and there's the usual screened porch and roof furnace and attic fan. It's priced at only $7,500!

Inflationary Spiral?

Booming Industry Faces New Round Of Wage Hikes

NEW YORK [illegible] Business continued higher than in the same week [illegible] of the year, steel production roared another record of [illegible] Reserve [illegible] at an estimated 96.7 per [illegible] Biggest question confronting [illegible] was: Would prices go up, [illegible] rise in retail trade [illegible] too?

You could see signs of bullish [illegible] optimism almost everywhere. [illegible] ment in the [illegible] some economists said there was [illegible] to be applauded for [illegible] much optimism and earned [illegible] reading results published [illegible] the boom might get out of [illegible] the [illegible] said. There was talk of more in- [illegible] action.

[illegible] said the boom was sound, [illegible] the [illegible] Secretary of Commerce Sinclair [illegible] the [illegible] of Weeks, reporting a rise of one [illegible] million in the number of Ameri- [illegible] employed during May, said [illegible] expected to [illegible] the prosperity in 1955 is shaping up as [illegible] of the best ever." Total employment [illegible] of strikes, was still 63 per last month, he announced, was 62,703,000; factory employment, which usually tapers off in May, racked up a contraseasonal increase.

C. Canby Balderston, vice chairman of the Federal Reserve Board of Governors, told the Virginia Manufacturers Assn. that "business is not only good, it's an all-time high." Biggest news from Balderston was that the No. 1 barometer of business—"gross national product" or total value of all goods and services produced and sold—has climbed to a rate of 375 billion dollars a year, the highest ever recorded.

There were other boom signals. In the summer dog days just ahead, the economy could count on a powerful assist from stepped-up business spending. Commerce Department experts said spending planned by business men on new plant and equipment would soar in the July - August - September quarter to a record annual rate of nearly 29 billion dollars.

While economists pondered the long-range implications of the auto wage settlement, trade sources forecast one immediate result: A continued rush to buy cars at present prices.

Word from Detroit was: "No price increases likely right away. But scheduled production cuts will whittle dealers' inventories, and people will be scrambling to buy cars before the new and probably higher - priced 1956 models come out. The present custom of fat discounts and liberal trade-in deals may not last much longer."

Summer squash takes to tomato sauce, but cut into slices first and cook it in a small amount of boiling water. If you like you may add a little lightly browned onion to the cooked drained squash; but don't do so if the tomato sauce has a noticeable amount of onion in it. Final treatment: turn the squash and tomato sauce into a shallow baking dish, sprinkle heavily with grated cheese and heat in the oven or broiler.

Gas Regulation Bill Heading For Battle In House

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—The close 16-15 vote by which the House Commerce Committee approved legislation to exempt natural gas producers from federal regulation appears to foreshadow a sharp scrap on the House floor.

Rep. Staggers (D-WVa), for one, predicts rough going for the bill introduced by Rep. Harris (D-Ark) if it is cleared for House action by the rules committee. Staggers sought unsuccessfully in the commerce committee to substitute for the Harris measure a bill supported by the coal industry.

"I am almost positive the Harris bill will be defeated on the House floor unless some amendments are adopted which will make it more acceptable to various groups, including consumers, and to the country as a whole," Staggers said in an interview.

In its present form the Harris bill "doesn't help my section of the country in the least," Staggers said.

The commerce committee rejected an amendment by Staggers which would have granted the Federal Power Commission jurisdiction over direct industrial sales of natural gas in interstate commerce.

The committee also turned down other amendments offered by Staggers, patterned after his original bill, but it approved one. This would redefine interstate commerce so as to make imports of gas subject to the same provisions applying to the transportation of domestic gas in interstate commerce.

The National Coal Assn., in a bulletin to its members, said "The result of the House committee's action leaves it almost entirely up to the Senate whether the coal industry's views on amendments to the Natural gas Act will receive legislative consideration at this session."

The Senate Commerce Committee has been hearing testimony on similar legislation.

The Harris bill in effect would nullify last year's Sureme Court decision in the Phillips Petroleum Co. case. The court held that the power commission has authority to control the price at the well of gas sold for interstate transmission.

As finally approved, the bill would authorize control also over the operation of automatic price increase provisions in present pipeline-producer contracts.

Water cress, to be fresh, must be bright green, crisp and clean. Wilted or yellowing leaves means the cress is getting too old for use.

Mrs. Clarence P. Alfrey, Jr., was before her wedding on Friday, June 10, Elizabeth Maurine Linquist. The ceremony was solemnized in Houston.

Mrs. Donelson Caffery McCay's wedding was an event of Thursday, June 9, at the Holy Name of Jesus Church in New Orleans. She was the former Isabel Swoop Nott.

Mrs. John W. Givens was married at 7 o'clock, Friday, June 10, in the Wisner Methodist Church. She was formerly Nancy Ward, daughter of Mrs. Richard Ward.

Miss Sarah Benita Coco, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philco Coco of Marksville will become the bride of Duncan McLauren Smith, Jr., of this city on June 25.

Mrs. Joseph Daniel Brown, the former Miss Ruth Farrar of Farmerville, was married at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Preuss, Wednesday, June 5.

Houston Wedding Claims Widespread Interest Here

In a setting of candlelight, blush pink floral arrangements and pink cathedral tapers, Miss Elizabeth Maurine Linquist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest James Linquist of Houston, Tex., formerly of this city, became the bride of Dr. Clarence P. Alfrey, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence P. Alfrey of San Angelo, Tex. The impressive double ring ceremony was performed in St. Marks Episcopal Church Friday, June 10, at seven o'clock in the evening by the Rev. Ernest H. Williams, associate rector.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was wearing a gown of blush nylon tulle and white Val lace. The bodice was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline. Both the sleeves and bodice featured multiple rows of shirred Val lace. The bouffant skirt of tulle was banded with graduated clusters of shirred lace, ending in a pleated flounce which fell into a slight train.

Her floral, fingertip veil of blush illusion, was held in place by a bandeau of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of pink orchids and stephanotis atop the white prayer book carried by her mother on her wedding day.

The bride's sister, Mrs. David F. Pobst, Jr., of Pampa, Tex., was matron of honor. Her bridesmaids were Mrs. K. DeWayne of DeRidder, Mrs. Verlon Moseley of Cameron, Mrs. Rolden Harry Borden and Mrs. Robert Catchings, both of Houston.

The bride's attendants wore identical floor-length gowns of pink tulip crystallette, fashioned with long torsos and wide off-the-shoulder collars. Their bandeaus were of pale pink rosebuds. They carried cascade bouquets of pink gardenias and English ivy.

The bride's mother was attired in a navy lace with taffeta trim. She wore accessories of a delicate pink. A pink orchid pinned to her lace completed her ensemble.

Mrs. Alfrey, mother of the bridegroom, was wearing a champagne lace model with matching accessories and a pink orchid corsage.

Dr. Alfrey had as his best man, his brother, Allen C. Alfrey of Houston. His groomsmen were David F. Pobst, Jr., of Pampa, Tex., Dr. Norman L. Pressley and Dr. Alan Pierce, both of Dallas, Dr. Robert L. Brueggman, Jr., of San Antonio and Dr. Fred Taylor Mathes of Houston.

During the ceremony, the organist rendered selections of nuptial music and also accompanied Mrs. Hugh E. Poole who sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Following a short wedding trip, the young couple will leave for Iowa City, Ia., where Dr. Alfrey will intern at State University of Iowa Hospitals.

Mrs. Alfrey, who is a granddaughter of the late Dr. Albert Davidson Alexander and Alma Wooley Alexander of Mer Rouge and of the late H. Maurice Linquist and Betty Munson Linquist of Kane, Pa., was graduated from Louisiana State University where she was a member of Pi Beta Phi, social sorority and Phi Kappa Phi, My Sigma Rho and Kappa Delta Pi, all honor scholastic fraternities.

Dr. Alfrey studied at Rice Institute at Houston and received his doctor of medicine degree from Baylor University College of Medicine, also in Houston. He is a member of Phi Beta Pi, medical fraternity of Osler Society and of Alpha Omega Alpha, honorary scholastic society.

McCay-Nott Wedding Is Prominent Event Of June

Among prominent weddings of June was that of Miss Isabel Swoop Nott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George William Nott, to Mr. Donelson Caffery McCay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Luzenberg McCay. The Church of the Most Holy Name of Jesus on St. Charles avenue was the setting for the nuptials which took place Thursday at 6 o'clock in the evening with the Rev. Lawrence L. Toups, S. J., officiating.

Tall white wicker baskets filled with white blossoms including peonies, gladioli and stock decorated either side of the altar and flanked the satin-covered prie dieux where the young couple exchanged marriage vows. The bride entered the church with her father, who gave her in marriage. Her bridal frock made on long flowing lines combined magnolia white silk illusion and Duchess lace. The tight-fitting bodice of crushed tulle in front was accented with a wide, flat bertha of the lace which formed a rounded decolletage and extending over the tips of the shoulders into a deep V to form the back of the bodice. The waistline in back, slightly curved, was finished in cording. The full skirt fell into a short train. On her head she wore a small close-fitting cap of similar lace encircled with orange blossoms. From the back and sides of the cap fell a veil of illusion which extended longer than the train of the dress. She carried a bridal bouquet of lilies of the valley.

The bride selected as her maid of honor Miss Mary Ross Richardson and as matron-of-honor, Mrs. Edmund Graves Brown, Jr., of Monroe, La., sister of Mr. McCay. The other attendants include Miss Isabel Swoop Hillery and Miss Margie Swoop Hillery, cousins of the bride, and Mrs. Armand LaGardeur and Mrs. Harold George Legeai Jr.

Their bouffant ankle - length gowns of pastel blue chiffon were styled with shirred bodices and low necklines formed of berthas of the material which looped in back into long streamers. Their slippers matched their dresses and on their heads they wore pale blue chiffon bandeaux. They carried cascade bouquets of light pink peonies.

Mr. McCay was best man for his son. The groomsmen and ushers were Lt. Henri Mortimer Favrot, Jr., USAF, Lt. John E. Greaier, USAF, Messrs. Leon Charles Leonard, George William Healy III, Howell Carter III, John A. Jenkins, Jr., Rader Jackson, Junius Swoop Hillery and Edmund G. Brown, Jr. of Monroe. Masters Edmund G. Brown III and McCay Brown, twin nephews of the bridegroom and sons of Mr. and Mrs. Brown, Jr., were pages.

A reception at the Orleans Club immediately followed the ceremony. Decorating the reception rooms of the clubhouse were white peonies, gladioli and stock in profusion. In the main drawing room, the receiving line formed in front of the mantel-piece which held a sunburst arrangement of blossoms and was sided by tall, many branched candelabra holding burning white tapers. Also placed on either side was a standard of similar flowers. Mrs. Nott received wearing a flesh-ink chiffon and lace gown, the bodice of which was made of lace and the flowing short skirt of chiffon. Her slippers matched her dress and on her head she wore a blush-pink veil. Her flowers were white orchids.

Mrs. McCay chose for the wedding a tiered gray-green silk taffeta gown made with a fitted bodice, sheath skirt and wide cut sleeves which encircled a corsage bouquet of white orchids.

Accenting the side of the skirt was a pouff of the material finished in two rows of appliqued silk organza ruffles. The appliqued motifs was repeated at the neckline and the edge of the veil covering her costume was a small matching hat and slippers of similar color and a corsage bouquet of white orchids.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Nott chose a blue lace gown with white accessories and an orchid corsage.

The bridegroom's mother wore a mauve lace gown, with matching accessories and an orchid corsage. The Bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Laura Graves, was becomingly gowned, in blue chantilly lace complemented by an orchid corsage.

The bride's attendants were her sister, Miss Mary Stella Ward, maid of honor, Mrs. Richard Burton, sister of the bride and Miss Mary Ann Givens, the bridegroom's sister, as bridesmaids. They wore identical dresses of pastel green crystalette made with long princess lines and featuring bouffant patio length skirts. Their matching headdresses and mitts were of tulle decorated with pearls. They carried cascade bouquets of gardenias finished with dark green satin ribbons.

The bridegroom's best man was Dillard C. Aubrey of Homer.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, John F. Ward, Sr., of Baton Rouge. Her floor length gown was of embroidered illusion over taffeta. The bodice was high necked with a scoop neckline. Her fingertip veil of French illusion fell from a Juliet cap of lace encrusted with seed pearls. She wore matching mitts and carried a bouquet of orchids, stephanotis and lilies of the valley. For something old she carried her mother's wedding handkerchief.

Reception Held

A reception following the ceremony in the home of the bride's parents for immediate family and close friends was held. The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with a silver epergne containing white stock, stephanotis and white tapers. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom.

For a wedding trip to Arizona, the bride chose a black linen sheath dress with a black and white duster and black accessories. She wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Mrs. Everett Harvell of Nashville; Mrs. E. L. Royster of Kansas City; Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Ward of Alexandria; Mr. and Mrs. William Rambin of Monroe; Mr. and Mrs. Ocie Baker; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Miller; and Mr. and Mrs. John Ward, Sr. of Baton Rouge.

MR. AND MRS. HERBERT BAREFOOT

Miss Albritton's Wedding Held

The marriage of Miss Martha Albritton and Herbert Barefoot, was solemnized at Park View Baptist Church with Rev. Ford H. Sampson officiating. She is the daughter of Mr. A. W. Albritton of Farmerville and Mr. Barefoot is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Barefoot of this city.

The church was decorated with arrangements of white gladioli against a background of bronze tapers and greenery. Mrs. Phelps Scott sang and was accompanied by Miss Betty Fisher, organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Bobby G. Albritton, was wearing a gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over satin. The close fitting lace bodice had long sleeves ending in points over her hands and the full skirt was of net with lace overlay. Her illusion veil fell from a cluster of seed pearls. She carried a Bible topped with a white orchid.

Mrs. Robert Young was matron of honor. Her dress was an orchid organza sheath with matching bow tie. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Bobby Young served as best man and the ushers were Jerry Bostwick and Bill Coggins.

A reception followed the ceremony in the fellowship room of the church. The bride's table was covered with white linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of Easter lilies. The tiered wedding cake was topped with miniature bride and groom. Mrs. Pat Calhoun presided over the punch bowl, assisted by Mrs. J. W. Womack and Mrs. W.H. Covington, Jr. A court of honor was courteous.

Miss Pennebaker Jack R. Graham Exchange Vows

Under an arch entwined with ivy and daisies at South Central Baptist Church last Sunday at four o'clock in the afternoon, Miss Barbara Sue Pennebaker and Jack Richard Graham were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pinny William Pennebaker of Delhi, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Ward Graham of Grayson, Ala. The Rev. C. S. Wroten was the officiating minister.

The church was beautifully decorated with magnolia leaves, English ivy and shasta daisies. White candles burned in floor candelabra on either side of the arch; these were flanked by tall baskets of white gladioli. The couple knelt on a Prie Dieu covered with white satin before the altar rail entwined with ivy and white satin ribbon.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Pennebaker, sister of the bride, was her maid of honor. She wore a lavender waltz length dress of net over pink satin with pink accessories and carried a bouquet of pink carnations tied with white satin ribbon.

Little Sherry Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Allen was the candle lighter and wore orchid nylon with head band of small pink flowers.

Thomas Leisel Greene of Monroe served the groom as best man and ushers were Douglas Graham of Grayson, Ala., and A3c John Graham of Keesler AFB, Biloxi, Miss.

The bride entering on the arm of her father, was lovely in a gown of wedding blue net and lace over cocktail blue satin. It was an off-the-shoulder model with tiny puff sleeves and fitted bodice with full, ballerina length skirt. She wore a single strand of pearls and her lace-trimmed veil of illusion was held with a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a small white Bible topped with white gladiola spray and white streamers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Pennebaker wore a navy blue eyelet dress with white accessories, and a white carnation corsage. the groom's mother wore a costume of ashes of roses polished cotton with white accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

Reception

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of the bride, where arrangements of gladioli and roses were used in the reception rooms. The bride's table, covered with a white lace cloth was centered with a lovely arrangement of pastel gladioli and roses. Miss Jean Kinchene from Ponchatoula, Miss., served the three-tiered wedding cake from one end of the table and Miss Frances Lollis presided at the crystal punch bowl from the other.

For her wedding trip the bride wore a gray linen suit with grey accessories with a touch of bright green on hat and collar.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham will make their home in Decatur, Ala., where he will be connected with the State Forestry Department.

The bride is a graduate of Grayson High school and attended L. S. U. where she was a member of Beta Sigma Omicron, social sorority. The groom is a graduate in forestry from L. S. U. and a member of the Society of American Foresters.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were: Mrs. Mike Ward Graham of Grayson, Ala., Mr. and Mrs. Hoss McCarty of Monroe, sister of the groom; Mr. Douglas Graham of Grayson, Ala., A3c John Graham of Biloxi, Miss., Thomas and Billy Greene of Monroe, Miss. Jean Kinchene, Ponchatoula, Miss., Mrs. J. E. Courtney, Port Neches, Tex., and Miss Ann Montgomery of Memphis, Tenn., aunt of the bride.

MR. AND MRS. JACK RICHARD GRAHAM

Smith-Laird Vows Said In Afternoon

TALLULAH — At the First Baptist Church here on Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, Miss Annette Yvonne Smith and Lieut. Robert Keith Laird were united in marriage, with the Rev. Irvin Cheney as the officiating minister. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Archie Smith and Mr. and Mrs. J. Perry Laird, all of Tallulah.

Myriad cathedral candles burned in graduated floor standards entwined with sprays of ivy, bouquets of Marguerite daisies, feverfew and fern and masses of woodwardia fern. The reserved pews were marked with clusters of daisies. Guests were directed to their seats by the ushers, Robert Harrop, Wallace Hargon, Ira Hugh Ervin and Jimmy Darby of Shreveport.

A program of pre-nuptial music played by the organist, Mrs. J. E. Courtney. She accompanied Billy Windham who sang.

The bride-maids, Miss Frances Baxter, Mrs. Boone Halbach, Miss Mell Campbell of Jonesville, and Miss Mary Linda Laird, sister of the groom, wore identical dresses of white organdy fashioned with fitted bodices, V-shaped neckline and tucked berthas having points in front and back to accent the neckline. The full hoop skirts were made in tiers and around the waists were cummerbunds of jade green satin. They wore hair corsages of daisies and carried bouquets of Marguerite daisies on green and white caladium leaves tied with maline. Mrs. Ira Hugh Ervin, the bride's sister, who served as matron of honor was dressed exactly like the brides-maid. Little Pamela Gilbert and Mischelene Thomas, flower girls, wearing replicas of the other attendant's costumes carried white baskets of rose petals and little Vernon Thomas, the ring bearer, carried the rings on a small satin pillow.

The bride's gown, also entered with her father, was wearing an exquisite wedding gown of white nylon tulle over satin, featuring a fitted bodice with point in front and back, short sleeves and full skirt. It was fashioned for the back with small covered buttons. The fabrication gown was accented with a tulle panel of chantilly lace inserts and ending in deep points in front, back and sides to which were attached a gathered flounce which cascaded into a cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a crown of lace and seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis and lilies of the valley centered with a white yellow throated orchid.

Awaiting the bride at the altar were the bridegroom and his best man, William Eugene Laird.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith were hosts at a lovely reception in the church parlors which were decorated with quantities of flowers, similar to those used in the church and silver candelabra holding white tapers. Mothers of the bride and groom and members of the wedding party greeted the guests.

The bride's table with its white cover was centered with a silver epergne holding lilies of the valley and other white flowers. At either end was a silver punch bowl presided over by Miss Sammie McComas of Baton Rouge and Miss Mabel Richardson of Centreville, Miss. The bridesmaid embossed tiered wedding cake topped with lilies of the valley was served by Miss Katherine Rogilla and Miss Flora Montgomery presided at the guest book. Assisting in the courtesies as hostess were Freda White, Mary Jo Proctor, Sherry Smith and Diane Romagos.

When the couple left for their trip to Cypress Gardens, Fla., Mrs. Laird wore a dark brown two piece silk linen dress with white collar, brown accessories and white hat and gloves. Her corsage was the orchid from her bridal flowers.

The bride is a graduate of the Tallulah High School and will receive her degree in the school of education at Louisiana State University in August. She is a member of Delta Gamma sorority.

Lieut. Laird is also a graduate of the Tallulah High School and received his degree in the School of Agriculture at Louisiana State University where he was a member of the Block and Bridle Club. He received his military training at San Antonio, Tex. and is stationed at Bartow Field, Fla., where the couple will reside.

Out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Laird, Miss Loraine Laird, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fisher of Jackson, Miss., Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Stegall of Flora, Miss., Mr. B. Sweeny of Canton, Miss., Mrs. Clarence Frost, Miss Gayle Frost, Benny Frost, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Barfield and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Laird of Monroe.

Girl Scout News

One of the nicest troop projects we have heard of in some time is the tea and flower show given by the girls of Troop 37 as part of their work on the My Troop and Hospitality badges. The girls invited their mothers, members of the Girl Scout Council, and leaders and members of other sixth grade troops.

The girls arranged the flowers, made the punch, did everything that was necessary, under the direction of leaders, Marie Wild and Edna Shaughnessy. The girls alternated in greeting their guests, presiding at the punch bowl, and being hostess at the flower display in the den.

Mrs. Edward Dalton, Mrs. Blanche Parissey, and Mrs. Eleanor White, judges for the show, awarded first place in arrangement to Nancy Wilson, second to Sandra Cararras, and third to Gail Dyer. Ronnie Wilds carried off the sweepstakes for the horticultural section. Sandra Cararras was awarded first place for a corsage of pink roses. Ronnie Wilds second for a gardenia corsage, and Nancy Wilson third for one of yellow snapdragons.

Troop 29 invited their mothers to an afternoon court of awards at Grace Church Parish House. Each patrol of the troop put on an original dramatization to fulfill requirements in the literature and dramatics fields, after which the girls received second class rank badges. Mrs. M. L. Quillen and Mrs. B. P. Graham are leaders of the troop, with the following girls: Carol Jean Cahn, Carol Ann Clark, Shirley Dean, Joan Gorman, Linda Graham, Edwina Hopkins, Georgey Carol Johnson, Kathy Kelly, Carol Ann Petty, Anne Quillen, Carolyn Thompson and Bette Ann Roberts.

Troop 36 held a tea for their mothers and a court of awards at St. Paul's Methodist Church as their end-of-school activity. Tree, adventurer, sewing, and cook badges were presented by their leader, Mrs. D. W. Ford. Troop 35 showed an example of good planning in deciding at their first fall meeting what badges they would earn, and devoting their meetings to these activities. Girls in this troop are: Jan Adcock, Carol Cole, Teddy Dixon, Charlott Ford, Mary Ann Futch, Sydney Ray Greenblatt, Lynn Marx, Evelyn Pankey, Judy Port, Kay Snellings, Glenda Thompson and Barbara Wales.

There has been some confusion about the star gazing, but girls can still come in by meeting at the bus stop in Forsythe Park about 7:30 on Monday and Thursday evenings. On cloudy evenings the group will go to the Girl Scout office.

PICTURED BETWEEN DANCES at the Lambda Sigma Chi summer formal are Miss Kay McCue and Miss Billie Ann Ruple and their escorts, Joe and Jay Cummins.

Lambda Sigma Chi Holds Annual Summer Formal

Wednesday night was a gala one for the members of Lambda Sigma Chi sorority as they held their annual Summer Formal at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club from 9 until 1.

An open house was held before the dance in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis on Speed drive. Refreshments were served and members and their dates enjoyed several hours before the dance began in the Lewis home.

The guests were greeted at the door by several Lambda officers who presented them with favors of miniature champange bottles filled with confetti and small boxes of candy.

The theme of the dance was kept secret until that night and the idea of a "black and white" dance turned out to be very unique. The black and white theme was used throughout, with a top hat, champagne glass, cane and gloves on the far wall. Toe shoes, a carnival mask and a boy and girl toe dancer, all done in black and white, covered the other walls. Black and white confetti covered the floor and balloons of the same color floated to the ceiling. Crepe paper streamers and balloons hung from the ceiling in the center of the dance floor.

The highlight of the evening was the presentation of flowers to the president of the sorority and giving gifts to Lambda Sigma Chi sponsors. Miss Virginia Cage, past president, presented Miss Pat Barker, president, a huge bouquet of white roses. Afterwards Miss Marianna Altick presented Miss Marilynn Crowley with a loving cup for being the ideal member of the sorority.

Immediately following the presentations, Miss Barker led the Lambda Sigma Chi active members in the grand march. The music for the evening was provided by Sleepy Speers and his orchestra.

DIET IN MIDDLE AGE

EAST LANSING, Mich. — An Iowa State College professor of nutrition says the middleaged woman should watch her diet "as her home - making tasks lighten and her household diminishes in size."

These two factors, says Dr. Pearl Swanson, often lead to erratic eating habits — too many calories one day, too few the next. And this causes anxiety, depression and a continuous breakdown of tissue protein.

Dr. Swanson spoke at a symposium at Michigan State College on "the potentialities of women in the middle years."

MRS. WAYNE GENTRY

Gentry-Harris Troth Pledged

Miss Melba Harris daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Lavelle Harris, and Wayne Gentry, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Gentry were married on June 1 at 6 o'clock in the evening in the chapel of the First Baptist Church in West Monroe.

Rev. Jaroy Weber officiated.

Floor baskets of white gladiolus, stock, greenery and lacetime tapers decorated the chancel. Bob Osborne, organist accompanied Miss Sharon Thomasee and Miss Sylvia Gould, who sang.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of embroidered organdy, appliqued with red pearls and sequins at the neckline. The bouffant bodice extended to points, held the gathers of the full skirt in graceful fullness. Her bouffant veil of illusion was held in place by a headdress of organdy covered with red pearls and sequins. She carried orchids on a prayer book.

Miss Loretta Lippincott was maid of honor. She wore a gold net gown over taffeta with full ballerina length skirt. Her headpiece of red daisies and vine leaves and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Hershel Gentry, Jr., was his cousin's best man. Groomsmen were Allen Dunnam and Dave Wallace and Ken Harris, brother and sister of the bride, lighted the candles.

A reception followed in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of white carnations and snapdragon from. The tiered wedding cake was at one end of the table and punch was served from a crystal bowl surrounded by gardenias at the other. Assisting were Miss Rose Parker, Miss Jo Ann Coster, Miss Patsy Glass, Miss Billie Beeson, Miss Janice Frazier, Miss Sylvia Gentry presented the guests and Sandy Lawn played during the reception.

Later the young couple left for a wedding trip to Sport in Florida. For traveling, Mrs. Gentry wore a suit of white linen with pink accessories and an orchid from her bouquet. On their return they are at home on Stone Avenue in Monroe.

Mr. and Mrs. Lon Brooks and daughter, Penny, of Ruston, were out-of-town guests.

Meredith-LaBeau Wedding Plans Are Announced

Miss Constance Marguerite La Beau's engagement to Lynn Marquette Meredith of Shreveport, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marquis Lafayette Meredith of this city, has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Joseph LaBeau of St. Paul, Minn.

The wedding will be solemnized on June 25 at 11 o'clock in the morning at The Church of Nativity, in St. Paul. The Rev. J. J. Steiner, O. S. C., will officiate.

Serving as maid of honor will be Miss LaReine LaBeau. Bridesmaids will be Miss Virginia LaBeau, Miss Carol Schadegg and Mrs. Edward F. Hindever.

Attending the bridegroom as best man will be Errol J. Mire. Ushers will be Arthur Joseph LaBeau, Jr., Joseph G. LaBeau and Robert E. LaBeau.

The bride is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Sheahan of St. Paul and the late Mr. F. E. LaBeau and Mrs. Clara LaBeau of St. Paul. She is a graduate of Derham Hall and the College of St. Catherine in St. Paul.

The prospective bridegroom is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Bailey of Meridian, Miss., and the late Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Meredity of this city. He graduated from Louisiana State University and the University of Lausanne, Lausanne, Switzerland. He is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon and Beta Tau Mu.

After the wedding, they will make their home at 759 Slattery Boulevard in Shreveport.

Add celery leaves, a couple of parsley sprigs, diced green pepper and grated carrot to tomato juice. Refrigerate overnight. Strain and serve as a good cocktail.

Club Ends Year With Programs Of Interest

Altrusa Club, the oldest classified service club for executive and professional women, under the leadership of Miss Ann Mickel, president, is ending a year of service and interesting programs, interspersed with social activity. The years' program was in four parts, the first being devoted to international relations, which is related to aid to Latin American students; the second, public affairs, which was devoted to the community participation in our Twin Cities; the third, Altrusa information dealing with the club as a service organization; and the fourth, vocational information related to Altrusa's aid to young girls' and mature women.

Miss Drury Key of Shreveport, La. made her last official visit as governor of seventh district in September and gave an interesting history of Altrusa Clubs in this district. The program was presented by the membership chairman and her committee, Miss Bernice McCoy.

The international relations chairman, Mrs Yvonne B Herron, presented two outstanding programs during the year. Mrs. Irene Reid gave an interesting talk on her travels in the Hawaiian Islands at the October meeting and in March Mrs. Janice Burgess, a student at Northeast Louisiana State College, gave a talk on "Life in Germany and Sweden" where she spent several years with her parents during the war. She discussed at length the customs and education of these people.

In November, the public affairs chairman, Mrs. N. Klam, presented Mrs. George Forman as guest speaker at the dinner meeting. Mrs. Forman very ably discussed the need of a juvenile home in the Twin Cities and related some experiences of the citizen's detention group. Another program presented by this committee was the "Mothers' Nite" dinner in May with Miss Pauline Hoeltzel of Little Rock, Ark. as guest speaker. Miss Hoeltzel is governor of Altrusa seventh district and in her most gracious manner talked to members and guests on the Altrusa motto, "Patriotism, Efficiency and Service," and encountered some of her experiences as an instructor of German and English at the Little Rock Junior College.

Beginning the spring season at a dinner at the Rendezvous, Mrs. Adrienne Carr, discussed "What Altrusa Had Meant to Me Through the Years." Miss Bernice McCoy presented this program and conducted the initiation of new members.

An instructive and interesting talk on "Milestones in Altrusa History" was given by Miss Willie Walker of Texarkana, Tex.-Ark., past governor of Altrusa Seventh District, in April, at which time the 38th birthday of the club was observed with a luncheon and cutting of birthday cake. Miss Agatha Burkett, chairman of Vocational Information, was in charge of the program.

One of the outstanding events of this year's club programs was the "Portrait Nite" in the home of Mrs. D. I. Hirsch in January presented by Mrs. Abbie Leckie and Mrs. Faye Heard, chairmen of Altrusa Information and Altrusa Finance committees. Highlight of this beautiful buffet was the quiz programs and incidents relating to the members, such as "Place the Face" and "I've Got a Secret."

Along with the lecture and dinner programs, members also sponsored a "Turkey Dinner" at Bond's Bakery in November. A sizeable sum was netted for equipment for cerebral palsy center at Selman Field.

Several evenings entertainments in which the husbands and guests were included were the bar-be-cue at Hicks' Camp on Chenicre Lake in the early fall hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gruber; a brunch at the Country Club in September; a Christmas party in the home of Miss Ann Mickel was held during the holiday season; a Valentine dinner was a highlight of the early spring, and a breakfast in May.

Outdoor Living

Outdoor Living

All of us are enjoying the outdoors now, and of course that calls for outdoor cooking. Outdoor cooking calls for foods which can take hard treatment. Some of you have been good to know and have written and come to see me. In return I owe answers to several questions, and in a closing article will give tested solutions. Meanwhile I must be sure you are well equipped with a fire or charcoal grill. You'll feel more at ease if you have a fire-place or fire bowl to contain the fire. Both need to be raised and deep enough. When iron or steel grates are to be used, see that they are clean and free of rust. Rust can be made to flake off with steel wool. Wire grates can be made clean by the same. One can broiler with a can and some fat, or can use a piece of plain or household ammonia.

How To Condition Hydrangeas For Cut Flowers

The hydrangeas are so beautiful now we want to bring them into our home, but we must condition them or they may wilt. To condition them cut the stem long enough to get some of the hard wood of the stem. Scrape this hard wood. Now turn immediately the entire flower in water and let remain over night. Arrange in container which holds at least two inches of water. I cut some on Friday afternoon and at this time (Wednesday morning) these blossoms are fresh and pretty. While looking at a florist, I saw a designer use the hydrangeas in a wedding bouquet, after having treated them in this manner.

Get The Garden Insects

Fight common garden pests with Malathion and DDT. Malathion is preferred for bean beetles and plant lice, while it is very serviceable also for squash bugs, cabbage cutico bug, pickle worm, squash vineborer, and striped cucumber beetle. DDT takes the lead for tomato fruit worm, cabbage worms, flea beetles, and is suitable also for cutworms, when sprayed on stems and on the ground near susceptible plants. Both these insecticides have wide uses in flower gardens also, and among shrubs and trees.

Vegetables For Canning And Freezing

We had several calls last week of vegetables available for canning and freezing but only two who wanted them. This exchange of information could be helpful if you use it. Those with surplus vegetables call between hours of 8 to 9, and those wanting vegetables immediately after nine to 9:30, not just any hour of the day.

Home Management of 1955

Today 21 out of every 100 married women have full-time jobs outside their homes. Another five out of every one hundred have part-time work. Time is of so much importance to us today that we are willing to pay for the extra services required to give convenience and save time.

The trend of "do it yourself" has been carried in kitchen activities. Ready-mixed or products ready prepared are time and labor savers. Back in the 1920's it is estimated a housewife had to spend 5½ hours in the kitchen preparing a day's food for a family of four. Today, she can do it in 2½ hours. Groceries bought today come with "built-in" maid service. This extra service costs money. Processing, transporting and marketing now take more of the family food dollar than farmers get for growing the food. Nowadays, the family grocery bill does not take any greater percentage of the net family income than it did 30 years ago.

Good Bye Mr. Roach

Don't forget this is the month to rid your home or place of business of roaches with 2 to 3 per cent spray of chlordane or DDT. If you "can't to see a dust a-c", or 25 per cent of these pesticides. You can call 3-2251 for bulletins. Let's get rid of this filthy disease carrying roach!

NAOMI ZARBOCK

Baton Specialist To Be On Staff Of Summer Camp

RUSTON, June 11 (Special) — Among the headliners on the staff of Louisiana Tech's sixth annual summer camp in music and dramatics, scheduled here for high school pupils from July 4 to 16, will be Naomi Zarbock of Abilene, Texas, on the impressive list of baton twirling honors.

Miss Zarbock will be one of numerous specialists coming to Tech from all over Louisiana and parts of Texas, Arkansas and Mississippi.

The 17-year-old baton artist won the Veterans of Foreign Wars title in Fort Worth and since has gained championship in the St. Paul Winter Carnival, the Chicagoland Music Festival, the south Milwaukee contest and the East-Meets-West national contest. She also won top honors at the Illinois State Fair and was state champion in Illinois for six years.

After competing in her first national contest at the age of 15 years, Miss Zarbock has been awarded 30 medals and 22 trophies.

Vinegar Will Banish Nylon Curtain 'Gray'

LINCOLN, Neb. — Vinegar now is a wash-day aid.

It will help keep nylon curtains from becoming grayed, says Mrs. Clara N. Leopold, home management specialist at the University of Nebraska.

She said freshly-laundered white nylon curtains eventually take on a grayish appearance because of static electricity, dirt in a room is attracted to the curtains a room is to a magnet.

Most manufacturers solve the problem by using a permanent antistatic finish, Mrs. Leopold said but for those curtains not so finished, a few drops of vinegar in the rinse water will help.

Junior Leaders To Be Honored By Lunch, Trip

WATERPROOF, June 11 (Special) — Miss Jeanne Crosby of Waterproof is one of the four outstanding 4-H Club junior leaders who will be honored in Shreveport Monday at a luncheon given by United Gas. The other three will be Buddy Gardner, Route 1 Shreveport; Will G. Pleitgeer, Jr., Waveanoke; and Beverly Anthony of Negreet.

These four will also leave Monday for the National 4-H Club camp which begins Wednesday in Washington, D. C. They will represent Louisiana junior leaders there.

The Louisiana 4-H Club members were awarded the Washington trip on the basis of outstanding leadership records submitted in state - wide competition. Winners were selected by officials of the Louisiana State University extension service.

In Shreveport United Gas will present checks for $250 to each of the four delegates.

Miss Crosby, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Statham Crosby, has been a 4-H Club member for eight years. She has been treasurer, reporter and secretary of the Tensas Parish 4-H Executive Council. In her junior leadership program she has engaged in 208 activities, including 129 activities in citizenship projects.

Oak Grove Jaycees Set Beauty Pageant

OAK GROVE, June 11 (Special) — The Oak Grove Junior Chamber of Commerce has agreed to sponsor a beauty pageant in order to enter an entrant for the Miss Louisiana contest.

The Miss West Carroll contest will be held at Lake Providence during the last week of June providing a sufficient number of contestants enter the pageant, said O. N. Hamilton, chairman of the pageant committee. He said participants must be 18 years old but not over 28, and must be single. They must possess talent, intelligence, poise and physical beauty. They will be required to appear in an evening dress and a bathing suit.

Judges were also scheduled a dinner meet banquet July 1.

Safety Instructors Will Meet Tuesday

A meeting of all first aid and safety instructors will be held at the Ouachita Parish Red Cross chapter, 200 South Grand Street, Tuesday night, W. E. Lewis, chapter chairman, has announced. The meeting will begin at 7 p.m.

Purpose of the meeting, according to Lewis, is to demonstrate new aid techniques, which will be put on in Monroe. Additional meetings will also be discussed, Lewis said.

Troop 'F' Police Make 59 Arrests

A total of 59 arrests were made during the past week by members of Troop F, Louisiana state police, with speeding causing the largest number of offenses. In addition to the speeding charges, nine persons were charged with drunk driving.

Charged with drunk driving were William Z. Morris, 41, 1508 Tim Street, West Monroe; Ed Lucky, 35, Fort Worth, Tex.; Hodge Watson, 52, Route 1, Calhoun; Willie Eaton, 32, Negro, 211 West Green Street, Tallulah; and Paul Barnett, 40, 427 Hillsboro street, El Dorado, Ark.

Other offenses and the number listed in the weekly report included: reckless driving, 9; speeding (autos) 26; speeding (trucks) 15; no drivers license, 3; and disturbing the peace, 1.

Tech Enrollment For Summer Is Up 23 Per Cent

RUSTON, June 11 (Special) — With 1,163 students registered, the enrollment in Louisiana Tech's summer session is more than 23 per cent above that of last summer, according to figures reported by the registrar's office. In the same-week term at Tech one year ago, the enrollment totalled 941 students.

The present increase of 222 students is the largest upswing in summer enrollment at Tech in several years, the records show.

The total of 1,163 students includes 650 men and 513 women. Among the men, 397 are non-veterans, 251 are veterans of the Korean War and two are veterans of World War II.

In addition to these regular college students, several hundred other persons will participate in various educational activities on the Tech campus this summer.

Enrollment in the A. E. Phillips Elementary School at Tech, where college students do practice teaching, totals 310 pupils.

The annual summer camp in music, dramatics and allied fields will attract more than 200 others. A large number of in-service teachers and other educators will be at Tech for a work-shop in language arts June 23-24. An estimated 500 people will attend a vocational education conference for trades' school at the college during the week of August 8.

Trout FFA Member Gets Farmer Degree

TROUT, June 11 (Special) — Charles Crooks, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Crooks of Trout, was one of the Louisiana F. F. A. members to receive the "State Farmer" degree at the state convention of the Future Farmers of America, which opened in Shreveport Wednesday and continued through Saturday.

Young Crooks, who will be a senior at Jena High School next session, has been in FFA work for the past three years, during which time he has achieved membership on the Jena high school chapter's parliamentary law team for three successive years, the dairy judging team three years, delegate to the national FFA convention in 1953-54, a member of the community service committee in 1952-53, the cooperation committee 1953-54, the leadership committee 1954-55 and an exhibitor of animals in parish, district and state livestock shows all three years.

Jena Director Shows Increase In Population

JENA, June 11 (Special) — If the number of new telephone installations during the past year can be used as a yardstick to measure by, the area served by the LaSalle Telephone Company of Jena should show an increase in population.

The 1955 telephone directories were issued this week to patrons in Jena, Olla, Tullos and Urania in LaSalle parish and in Wisner in Franklin parish, the towns served by the LaSalle Telephone Company. The directories, issued as of June 1, 1955, were corrected to May 25 of this year, according to one company spokesman.

The 1954 directory listed a total of 2456 installations, it was reported. This year's directory shows a total of 2649 installations, an increase of almost 200.

Town by town, the listings total 1477 this year for Jena, compared to 1397 last year; 382 in the new book for Olla, compared to 350 last year; Wisner jumped from 304 last year to 340 this year; Tullos also showed an increase — from 235 to 260, and Urania jumped 20 from 170 in 1954 to 190 this year.

Rainbow Girls Work For Trip

JENA, June 11 (Special)—Jena's Rainbow Girls of Assembly No. 28 want to attend Grand Assembly which will be held June 15-16 in Alexandria — but they aren't sitting back and expecting "good ol' dad" to send them.

No thanks; they're working their way to Grand Assembly and in recognition of their determination to "do things for themselves" Mayor Nick Edwards of Jena declared Friday as "Rainbow Girls' day" in Jena.

On Friday Rainbow Girls descended on stores and business offices of Jena and served as clerks for one day, in cooperation with the businessmen who hired the girls.

Previously, the girls sponsored a supper for the Masons and Eastern Star members of this area and "we have some other plans cooking which we aren't ready to announce yet."

Combine cooked and raw vegetables in a salad for taste and texture contrast. Use crisp celery or cucumber, for instance, with cooked beets, peas, snap beans, or asparagus cuts.

bert, Benny Lopoo, Joe Matthews, Hallie Faye Fife and Miles Jopkins. They were accompanied by Mrs. L. Mitchell of Waterproof as local leader; Mrs. Effie Lofton, Home Demonstration agent; and Edward Dayton, assistant county agent.

Other parishes represented at the camp were West Carroll, Ouachita, Madison and Concordia.

In Hollywood

By Jimmy Fidler

Italians Libs
BY KIRK DOUGLAS
Guest Column

HOLLYWOOD, June 12 — An Italian invasion of Hollywood is under way. Not since the days of Valentino and Rudolph Schildkraut has the Italian influence been so strong in the movie capital.

Columbia's boss was captivated first by a series of supposedly realistic movies and secondly by a covey of photogenic actresses who demonstrated that "cheesecake" was as much their dish as spaghetti.

The Italian invasion began with the dark, drafty adult film, "Open City," which immediately established the quality of the Mediterranean movie men. Next, and equally acclaimed, was "The Bicycle Thief" — and so it has gone right up to the presently successful Bread, Love and Dreams." The impact of these films was far-reaching. Their slice - of - life technique was adopted by many American producers and is visible in a score of domestic films, most notably in the multiple Academy Award winner, "On The Waterfront."

With these films has come a crop of fiery and talented personalities — Gina Lollobrigida, Anna Magnani, Silvana Mangano, Rossana Podesta, Silvana Pampanini — women with immense vitality and unabridged sex magnetism. Their lavish charms, lavishly displayed, have won them admirers on an international scale.

The latest, and in some ways the most impressive, Italian victory was scored by a 20 year old Florentine beauty who beat out all domestic competition for the leading feminine role in my first independent production, "The Indian Fighter," for Bryna Productions.

Elsa Martinelli, in this country a mere five months, was the 87th candidate that we considered. A success ful model in Rome, she had stormed New York, quickly risen to the pinnacle of the professional, asking — and getting — $40 an hour for posing for Vogue, Harper's Bazaar, Town and Country and other leading fashion magazines. Although she had no previous acting experience, the tall, dark-eyed, dark - haired Elsa possessed the Italian's instinctive, natural flair for performing. Testing against four other actresses, Elsa won the unanimous verdict of the Bryna staff; the coveted role of the savage, passionate Indian maiden and a long-term contract with our company.

That Hollywood's borders now extend to the banks of the Tiber is seen by a look at upcoming product. Anna Magnani stars opposite Burt Lancaster in "The Rose Tattoo"; Milly Vitale is Bob Hope's leading lady in "The Seven Little Foys"; Rossana Podesta plays the title role in Warner's multi-million dollar production of "Helen of Troy"; Gina Lollobrigida will swing high in the Hecht-Lancaster film, "Trapeze"; and Silvana Mangano plays both Circe and Penelope in Paramount's presentation of Homer's classic, "Ulysses." Italian imports already settled on the local scene include Pier Angeli, Marissa Pavan and Anna Maria Alberghetti.

Of the new Italian faces, the male contingent is less impressive than the distaff side, but it would be tough to ignore Rossano Brazzi, seen in "Three Coins in the Fountain" and "The Barefoot Contessa," Vittorio Gassman, Vittorio de Sica and Massano Serato.

There are other aspects to the new Italian renaissance. The Venice Film Festival is an event of world-wide significance. The Italian producers are gaining fame and respect, notably the team of Ponti di Laurentiis, whose massive spectacle, "War and Peace," is shaping into reality while American producers are still only formulating plans for their version of the picture.

Italian sportswear fashions, hair-cut styles for women, typewriters have all made their mark on the American scene. Hollywood is beginning to look like Rome — and home — to Elsa Martinelli and the other explosive, successful "invaders."

I do not have the full statistics, but it would be my guess that the Italian invasion may have caught up with the British and French invasion. If not it is coming on strong, and may set pace its two European rivals for film honors a la Hollywood.

2. IS THERE A SURE WAY TO LIVE A SHORT, HEART-BREAKING LIFE?
YES ☐ NO ☐
CHATTON
1 ARE WOMEN WHO ARE PROMISCUOUS REALLY STRONGLY SEXED? YOUR OPINION ——— 6-11
3. HAVE MAN'S INVENTIVE POWERS INCREASED BECAUSE HE HAS USED HIS BRAIN MORE?
YES ☐ NO ☐

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Psychiatrists and social workers agree they are nearly all unhappy girls — usually from unhappy homes — who feel unloved, lost, and interior. Many of them have a half-unconscious grudge against men and are surprised and worried at their own lack of normal passions. Investigators conclude that promiscuity among women is like excessive drinking—a way of drowning their unhappiness and solving their conflicting emotions.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Yes. "Medical Advance" gives these rules: 1. Your job comes first, all else secondary. 2. Go to the office evenings, Sundays, holidays. 3. Take work home at night. 4. Say yes to all requests. 5. Accept all invitations to meetings, committees, etc. 6. Always plan a conference during mealtime. 7. Consider any recreation wasted time. 8. Don't take all the vacation allowed. Never delegate responsibility — do it all yourself. 10. If you must travel, work all day and drive all night. It was nice knowing you.

Why don't you let go?

Answer to Question No. 3

3. No. If parents use their brains, it doesn't improve their children's brains. Up to a few thousand years ago, men put their large brains to little use except in fishing and hunting. As they began to grow their own food instead of hunting it, they began to invent things chiefly out of necessity. Man had great brains long before he learned to use them, but using them has not increased their original powers.

John Wayne, Lana Turner Star In 'The Sea Chase'

John Wayne and Lana Turner star in Warner Bros. production of "The Sea Chase," opening today at the Paramount Theatre. Filmed in CinemaScope and WarnerColor, "The Sea Chase" also stars David Farrar, Lyle Bettger and Tab Hunter.

"The Sea Chase" is an adventure drama on the high seas. It is the story of an "captain" ship and the people aboard her. John Wayne is seen as the renegade captain who's long since had aimed him self their way but Lana Turner is the ship's cook, a woman whose tempting mien half the males of the world wanted to "get."

The film action begins as the "Courier" ship steams out of the harbor at Sydney, Australia under cover of night and shoots to Pom Pom Gill, Philippines port the far North Sea. The theme of the film involves a deadly trans-ocean pursuit, a mutiny, a storm at sea and the complications of the rene-gade crew when one blonde woman causes discord.

John Wayne nearly encroached as the leading box-office star, portrays the captain of the ship. Wayne's recent hits include "The High and The Mighty" and "Hondo." It is said that in "The Sea Chase" Wayne wears the same battered cap he wore in "The High and The Mighty" but with a different costume. It is now the star's lucky cap.

Returning to Warner Bros. where she found fame as the original "sweater girl," is Lana Turner. In "The Sea Chase" the coralesque blonde Miss Turner plays an international adventuress who became the hottest cargo a tramp steamer ever carried.

David Farrar, British star of stage, screen and radio; Lyle Bettger, famed for his portrayal of screen villains; and young Tab Hunter, who is remembered for his exciting role as Danny in the the successful production "Battle Cry," also star in "The Sea Chase."

John Farrow, who directed the John Wayne success "Hondo," was the director of "The Sea Chase" which was based on the best - seller by Col. Andrew Geer. The screenplay was by James Warner Bellah and Jonn Twist.

Olla Methodists Get Certificate Of Merit

OLLA, June 11 (Special) — The Olla Methodist Church received a certificate of merit in recognition of outstanding progress made during the conference year of 1955. Only three churches in the Alexandria district received this award.

The certificate was signed by Bishop Paul E. Martin and by the district superintendent A. W. Townsend Jr.

The Rev. Charles H. Giessen, pastor of the church for the last conference year, left Thursday for Lecompte, where he will serve both the Lecompte and Cheneyville churches.

Heat a can of pork and beans in tomato sauce — the 1 pound size. Meanwhile split and broil frankfurters and frankfurter rolls. Butter the cut surfaces of the rolls and spread with a good prepared mustard. Now ladle the hot beans into the rolls, top with the hot frankfurters and call the gang!

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Twenty minutes a day of the correct exercises will be enough to make a difference in your measurements.

A Refresher Course On Weight Problems

The questions of how rapidly one should lose weight, how to hold that line once you reach your perfect weight, how much time must be spent in exercise in order to see happy results in measurements, how long before you can expect to see a difference in measurements are all matters of great interest to most women.

I have answered all of these questions in my column but today I would like to give you a quick refresher, or I might say, a booster shot.

If you have a great deal of weight to lose you should do it gradually, not only because of health, but because of appearance. If you lose many pounds too suddenly your skin will not have time to shrink attractively to your new proportions, nor will you have time to exercise enough to increase body tone.

Quick Diet

If you have only ten pounds to lose then you can safely and wisely adopt a rapid but scientifically planned reducing diet. You can also use this as an encouraging quick diet starter on a longer reducing period. Such a diet is encouraging to continue, at the rate of a calorie count of from 12 to 14 hundred calories a day.

You do not have to exercise all day long in order to make a difference in your measurements. Twenty minutes a day of the correct exercises will be all that is necessary, although a little more will bring you quicker results.

Once you arrive at your perfect weight, continue to be strict with yourself for a few weeks unless you continue to lose pounds. The trick is to remain at your correct weight for awhile before indulging in those little food binges at parties and on special occasions. If you will do this you will find that you can break over once in a while without changing your poundage.

Nine Day Diet

If, after arriving at your perfect weight, and when continuing to count calories, you find that you still are losing, then add 200 calories more a day and watch the scales.

My Nine Day Reducing Diet, will bring you a loss of from five to ten pounds in nine days time. It can be a quick start for a long pull, or a quick end to troubles if you have only a few pounds to lose.

If you would like to have this ten cent Nine Day Diet Booklet, send ten cents and a stamped self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Tomorrow: "Take your Time and Relax While Bathing."

Rainbow To Install Oak Grove Officers

OAK GROVE, June 11 (Special) —Mrs. Ruth Head, mother advisor for the Rainbow Assembly, has announced installation of officers Monday in the Oak Grove Masonic Lodge at 7 p. m.

Officers to be installed include the following: Peggy Kirkland, worthy advisor; Dawana Head, worthy associate advisor; Joy Holly, charity; Josephine Ragus, hope; Lillian Hollingsworth, faith; Virginia Kirland, chaplain; Chamella Rose Pine, drill leader; Mary Alice Thomas, love; Patsy Rush, religion; Jerry Morris, nature; Kathryn Rae Tyson, immortality; Linda Roundtree, fidelity; June Kay Roberts, patriotism; Annette Doyle, service; Myrna Moseley, confidential observer; Mary Helen Vining, choir director; and Nita Thompson, musician.

Officers will be installed by Mrs. Doris Mosley.

Red Cross Slated To Elect Board At Thursday Meet

The annual meeting of the Ouachita Parish Red Cross chapter will be held Thursday at 7 p.m. at the Virginia Hotel, according to W. E. Lamb, chapter chairman.

Lamb said that the annual election of the board of directors would be held in conjunction with the meeting and that a report would be made on the activities of the chapter during the past year.

Edward F. Barry, of Memphis, Tenn., who has rendered outstanding service to the Memphis chapter and the National Red Cross organization, will be the principal speaker.

Barry, who is a practicing attorney, has served as chairman of the Memphis-Shelby County Chapter of the Red Cross and also as fund campaign chairman.

A citation for service as chairman of the war fund campaigns was bestowed on Barry by the American Red Cross.

The newspaper guild of Memphis designated Barry recently to receive the 1955 citizenship award.

The public, according to Mrs. Tony Veazey, executive secretary, is invited to attend the annual meeting. Reservations can be made by contacting the local office.

St. Francis Alumnae To Hold Banquet June 18

Elaborate plans have been completed for the holding of the St. Francis Alumnae banquet, the third annual one, which will be held June 18 at 7 p.m. in the St. Francis auditorium.

This will be the first to be held in the new St. Francis hospital and those in charge assure fun and fellowship. Deadline set for making reservations is given as June 15.

Letters explaining the banquet plans have been sent to all former nursing graduates by Miss Josephine Cascio, 1615 Emerson street, Monroe, whose telephone is 3-1304.

One of the features of the banquet will be to raise money to pay off the balance unpaid for the nurses' room furnishings in the new hospital. There is $250 yet to be paid and it is honed that there will be sufficient money left over after paying for the banquet to liquidate this debt.

Any nurses unable to attend are asked to send in a check which will be applied toward the paying of the debt on the furniture.

Miss Cascio assures all who attend will have an evening of "real pleasure and good fellowship."

Use denatured alcohol to clean piano keys.

Little Theatre Curtain Call

Officially, the Little Theatre is closed until September 1, but the board of directors' work is far from a standstill. They are presently busily interviewing applicants for the position of director of the theatre and making plans for the membership drive. Every effort is being made to see that the twenty-fourth year of the Little Theatre of Monroe will be overwhelmingly successful. A number of memberships for the coming season have already been purchased. Why don't you "beat the rush" and mail your checks for membership tickets to P. O. Box 888, Monroe, Louisiana. If you desire further information you may telephone Mrs. L. H. Carter at 3-8509.

Sidney and Mary Gill and children left Friday for Fort Monroe, Virginia to visit Sidney's sister and brother-in-law, Maude and Bill McClary.

Linda Noe recently flew to Pensacola, Fla., to attend a series of dances and parties.

Maxine and Grant Boardman have moved into their new home on the bayou.

Julius Cahn's sister, Mrs. Hessel Cahn of Baxley, Ga., was a recent visitor to Monroe.

Among the week-end out-of-towners is Mrs. A. L. Harrington who is in Shreveport for the horse show . . . Also Miss Geneva Washburn drove to Shreveport to attend the wedding of her niece, Miss Myra Parks.

Marion Fisher is at St. John's Military Academy in Delafield, Wisconsin. Upon her return, she will be accompanied by her son, Kirk and George Trousdale, Jr., who will spend their summer vacation here.

Clark Boardman recently returned from New Richmond, Wisconsin where he attended the 50th anniversary of his high school graduating class . . . A wonderful reunion.

Fleta Latham and her mother, Mrs. R. M. O'Neal leave next week for a visit in Jackson, Mississippi. While there they will attend the wedding of Miss Frances Lee Hardy and Mr. Bertram Alexander Tucker, Jr.

Barbara Addison is making plans for spending her vacation in Houston, Tex. She will be the guest of Miss Nita Peil.

It's time to pull the curtain on another column but before I go, let me remind you again . . . Get your theatre membership early.

When you're painting the drawers of desk or chest, it's easier if you remove the handles or knobs and paint them separately. They're easy to handle if attached to a section of cardboard.

The bidding:

South, 2 no trump; West, Pass; North, 3 spades; East, Pass.

South, 4 spades; West, Pass; North, 6 no trump; East, Pass.

South, Pass; West, Pass.

Opening lead: Jack of hearts.

In today's hand South selected a line of play which was bound to succeed against any possible distribution of the cards.

North's avoidance of a spade slam after partner had supported the suit was a bit of an inspiration. However, his choice was made because he felt that the more vigorous call of six no trump might induce partner to contract for a grand slam if he had a suitable hand.

West opened the jack of hearts, and when the dummy was spread, declarer was quite pleased with his investment. It was so promising, in fact, that he became seized with that "too good to be true" feeling. It became apparent, of course, that only if all of the spades were stacked in one hand could a problem develop. He set about to select a line of play which would succeed, therefore, if he found all the spades in either hand and regardless of the location of the queen of diamonds.

He won the first lead in dummy with the queen of hearts and then led a small spade. When East showed out, he won with the ace and returned a small spade. West could not afford to take the trick, for that would establish the entire suit; so dummy took it with the queen. Declarer then returned to his hand with the ace of hearts and led the jack of diamonds, letting it ride. When it held, declarer had 12 tricks. The diamond finesse is, of course, taken with complete safety because if it loses to East he has no spade to return.

Observe declarers play will work even if East has all four spades, for if East follows on the lead of the first spade the finesse of the jack will be taken. The suit is then abandoned and declarer starts attacking diamonds for the development of the 12th trick.

It is true that declarer could have brought home the hand by winning the heart in his own hand and playing the ace of spades. But such play would require his guessing the location of the queen of diamonds.

It will be interesting to try the numerous variations and observe that unless the first two tricks are played as described, declarer will be at the mercy of guessing the location of the queen of diamonds.

Instruction To Be Given Camp Leaders Of 'Y'

The Twin Cities YMCA is conducting a leadership training program for all day camp staff members from June 13-17. Each staff member has been carefully selected and the entire group is made up of individuals of high ideals strong personality, and good character who enjoy outdoor work with younger boys.

The staff is composed of counselors: Tony Briggle, Ed Bufkin, Robby Butler, Randolph Coates, Curt Freeman, William Ragan, Jerry Robinson, Jr., Richard Sanders, Karl Thompson, Richard Wainwright, Charles Wilder, Donald White, Louis Whittington; junior counselors: Jake Evans, Leo Henry, Robert Larkan, James McMillan, Reginald Rountree, James West, Ronnie Whitecotton; Stuart Langley, program director.

Bible Words for Today

ROMANS 12:9-11—"Let love be genuine . . . love one another with brotherly affection; outdo one another in showing honor. Never flag in zeal, be ardent with the Spirit, serve the Lord." (RSV)

• • •

This gem of Scripture is pointedly directed at Christians. Every man's life is controlled by some dominating idea or influence. These staccato commands flash challenges to the very heart of one who would follow Christ. In Christian living there is no place for pretense or a superficial veneer of appearing to be something different from what one really is. When a man's life is transformed by accepting the mind of Christ he will be gracious, kind, and considerate of the welfare of men everywhere and have brotherly affection for all. He will permit no one to excel him in showing respect and honor to all.

His life will glow with the radiance of the Christ within him. He manages his affairs in every area of life will be dominated and controlled by the love and Spirit of Christ as he gives himself in service to God and his fellow men.

Garden Center Notes

By Mary M. Jardine

Birds Make Garden Music

As I write this a soft gentle summer shower is refreshing the land. There is a blue haze in the air. The birds are chanting paeans of joy. The hummingbird flits from the honeysuckle to the alstromeria. The yellow warbler tugs at grass stems for his nest. The fiery orange and black oriole works his way up a garlic stalk—one quick bite and he's off into the blue. The brilliant cardinal flashes through the evergreens. The plaintive call of the bob-white and the cheerful chatter of the chickadees are heard.

Have you enticed the birds to your garden?

If not, then you have not reached the ultimate in garden enjoyment. With very little effort birds will put on a sound and color production for you, as well as rid your garden of unwelcome insects. Water for drinking may be provided in shallow pans (not shiny metal), or a bird bath may be placed in the open, away from shrubs or trees that might harbor enemies. Food for the birds falls into two classes (a) artificial and (b) natural. Simplest types are stale bread crumbs, small grains (available at your seed store), suet, coconut meat, peanuts and pecans, and a large variety of vegetable seeds.

Plant some of these annuals in a corner of the garden and allow them to go to seed: Zinnia, bee balm (monarda) sunflower, cornflowers and bachelor buttons.

Of course in summer there are always weed seeds and insects.

The following trees and shrubs provide food and shelter: Cedars, pines, ashes, alders, Spanish mulberry, bayberry, blackberry, honeysuckle, sumac, dogwood, ligustrum, viburnum, sassafras, holly, elderberry and crabapples. Protect the birds and invite them to your garden to add to your pleasure.

Mrs. B. H. Talbot and Mrs. E. R. Hays judged the flower show presented by the Welcome Garden Club at the center this week. Mrs. P. A. Colvin was awarded first place in the arrangement class. A bronzy gold container set on a free-form brown base was used to create a dramatic diagonal line arrangement of maroon canna foliage.

Mrs. R. B. Henry was awarded second place. Her arrangement was characterized by simplicity of line and a harmonious color scheme. An antique glass candy compote was used for a container with a triangular line design created of the maroon foliage of the barberry. Hydrangeas shading from palest lavender to deep lavender made a dramatic focal point.

Mrs. C. C. Lucky was awarded third place. Mrs. Lucky designed a crescent arrangement in shades of yellow green through orange. The crescent line was delineated with variegated elaeagnus and golden privet. The line was enhanced by calendulas shading to pale yellow to orange. Clusters of orange butterfly-weed were placed in the curve of the crescent. The arrangement was placed on a brown rectangular base against a chartreuse background.

In the horticulture section a blue ribbon was awarded to Mrs. P. A. Colvin for pink daylily. Ribbons were awarded to Mrs. John P. Lewis for Monarda (bee-balm) and Mrs. C. C. Lucky for Shasta dalsies.

Be sure to plant some of the new bright red Toreador celosia and hybrid snapdragons for those fall flower shows. Start them in seed flats in a shady area of your garden.

The word dandelion derives from the French dent - de - lion (lion's tooth) because of the tooth-like lobes on the leaf of the plant.

'Green Thumbed' Ladies Beautify Crossett, Ark.

By BETTY MOORE

Ladies, do you know that in today's age of "Do It Yourself" trends you can make your own garden tools? Are you aware of the proper procedure to follow in keeping your gardening tools bright and clean, easy to use? Have you heard that the flower gardens of today are carefully planned color schemes cueing the flowerbed to the house with a critical eye?

These interesting facts and many more are common knowledge to one particular group in Crossett, a group that has long had a probing and inquisitive thirst for knowledge of all things "earthy." This organization is the Crossett Iris Garden Club, forty members strong, who are making Crossett an unheard of industrial community — one that is attractive, well landscaped and flowered.

We are all aware of the typical industrial town. It is bleak, unattractive, barren and cold appearing. Not so Crossett! Thanks to our "green thumbed" ladies, roses bloom in profusion on the banks of the mill properties, daffodils wave gaily in the early spring air welcoming travelers to the town approaches, new buildings are competently landscaped as soon as the buildings are completed.

All these efforts on behalf of the members of the Iris Garden Club take time, money and cooperative action. Because this is an action group, with results of past labors in full flower, we are proud and privileged to name the Iris Garden Club of Crossett our Good Neighbors of the Month.

For the past two years the Iris Garden Club of Crossett, Ark., has received the Standard of Excellence Award. This is an outstanding honor and illustrates the group's growth in the National organization of Garden Clubs.

In 1954 the club took as its project the beautification of Highway 82 on the approaches to town. A considerable amount of money was spent, $422 to be exact, but the shrubs did much to enhance the highway area. The group also became interested in making the high school grounds more attractive. This time they planted roses and the results are very much in evidence today.

The Iris Garden Club has always taken an active part in local and county events. Each year the club participates in the Ashley County Fair, presents a float in all city parades and contributes to many charities.

The annual spring flower show is a long awaited Crossett event. In 1954 the annual flower show was held in April on the theme, "The Spirit of Spring." It was most successful. In 1955 the show was scheduled, all plans were made and much work had been done. The theme for this year's show was "So This is Crossett." Unfortunately all was in readiness but the flowers. The heavy frosts and inclement weather earlier in the year made it impossible for the show to be held.

With the spring flower show cancelled, the members of the Iris Garden Club turned their thoughts to another project. This time they decided to spend their efforts on behalf of the new City Building on Main Street. They had been most successful in their work at the City Auditorium in landscaping and planting and they were confident that they could do an equally good job at the new Municipal building.

When the dedication day arrived, the Crossett Municipal Building — thanks to the Iris Garden Club— had been completely landscaped creating a complete and beautiful picture. In addition the women made the platform for the ceremony which was held on Saturday, May 14.

The accomplishments of the Iris Garden Club are a combination of collective efforts. Perhaps, however, it is fitting to give some of the credit to the able leadership of the group's president, Mrs. L. B. McLeod. She has served faithfully as the organization's leader for the past two years, ably assisted by Mrs. R. A. Parkhill, vice president; Mrs. Ovid Switzer, secretary; Mrs. T. L. Parham, treasurer; Mrs. C. M. Jordan, reporter; Mrs. E. M. Godat, parliamentarian; Mrs. Roy Dooley, historian; and Mrs. W. L. Lear, librarian.

We are extremely grateful for an opportunity to thank this outstanding organization for their many accomplishments in beautifying our city. Our small way of saying "thanks" is our nomination of the Iris Garden Club of Crossett, Ark., and all its members, as our Good Citizens of the Month.

Masons Meet In Alexandria

ALEXANDRIA, La., June 11 (Special) — Elaborate plans for the grand lodge of Prince Hall Free and Accepted Masons have been announced here by Grand Master John G. Lewis of Baton Rouge, on a visit here to the grand lodge committee. A number of prominent speakers have also been made known.

The Council of Deliberation, the 32nd. degree Mosons, meets on Sunday (today) and Rev. Robert D. Hill, pastor of Mt. Zion Methodist Church of New Orleans, will deliver the sermon at divine services to be held at Nazarene Baptist Church 8:00 p. m. that night.

The Royal Arch Chapter meets on Monday and memorial services for that group will be held at Shiloh Baptist Church 8 p. m., with Rev. W. Talbot Handy, district superintendent of the Lake Charles Methodist district, delivering the eulogy. On that night a formal party will be given by the Eastern Star Chapters in the Community Center.

The Master Masons assemble on Tuesday, June 21, 8 p. m. in Peabody High School. Dr. Felton G. Clark, president of Southern University, will deliver the address.

Southern Reports Passenger Record

H. D. Cartwright, local agent for the Southern Airways, Inc., Saturday announced the establishment of a new passenger record at Monroe during the month of April.

During the month 705 passengers boarded Southern's planes at the Selman field air port and 697 passengers deplaned, exceeding the previous record by 232.

Systemwide, Cartwright said, the airline boarded 14,500 passengers and flew a total of 2,400,000 passenger miles, an increase in mileage of 25 per cent over April of last year.

Playgrounds Of City Will Open Here On Monday

City of Monroe playgrounds will open Monday at 8:30 a.m. and close at 11:30 a.m. each day, Monday through Friday. Special programs will be held each week and inter-city competition will also be held each week.

Mrs. Peggy Garnett will visit each playground several times during the summer to teach new projects in handicraft.

Playgrounds will comprise seven for white children and six for colored. They will be as follows and will be directed by the names listed for each:

Lexington School, Julia Ann Wooley; Georgia Tucker, Mrs. E. N. Camp; Sherrouse, Caroline Boyce; Missouri Pacific, Lela Bess Kite; Plum Street, Geneve Castles; Barkdull Faulk, Dollie Sweet; Lida Benton, Connie Ticheli.

SOUTHERN GARDENER—

By William Lanier Hunt

Feeding Shrubs Necessary Now

If your trees and shrubs need feeding, you will have only the rest of June in which to get it done. No feeding should be done after June of woody plants. The hole punching method will take care of your trees. Shrubs can be fed in the same way, or you can simply scatter a complete fertilizer under them at the rate of three to four pounds to the hundred square feet and then water it into the soil slowly.

It pays to water it in even if you cannot water your shrubs very long. Do not let the water run away from each shrub; just water enough to let the solution soak in and then move to another. It is a mistake to wait for the rain to wash fertilizer into the soil underneath shrubs unless there is enough mulch over their roots to keep the plant food in place while the rain is washing it in. Usually our summer rains just wash it away in one short torrent.

Crape myrtles will respond like magic to feeding and watering. These trees or shrubs would go right on flowering for one hundred days if we could keep them growing with water. Since the blossoms come on the new wood that is being formed this season, you will get results from the fertilizer you put on right now in two weeks or less. There are some very fine new crape myrtles that have been introduced in the past ten years.

There is a very heavy flowering light pink and also a lavender one of this kind. These have very large trusses of flowers and they tend to be more shrubby than tree like. If you like white flowers, there is scarcely a more elegant white flowering tree for summer than the fine new type of white crape myrtle introduced lately.

Since you will not be able to feed after the first of July, this is a critical time to fertilize the plants you may have been nursing along after the freezes of the past winter season. To keep on feeding woody plants after July is usually disastrous because you will stimulate them to make growth that will not go through the winter, and they will be right back where they started.

Broadleaf evergreens may need a bit of pruning to make them more shapely. The long growths can be shortened now, and this will, on some kinds, stimulate them to make some lateral growths that will help to thicken up the skinny ones.

It is time to prune back the rampant perennials in the garden and to clip the plants that are overrunning others. If you have not filled up all the bare spots with annuals, plant some chrysanthemums in these places. There is enough time for chrysanthemums to come into flower before frost if you get them in. These obliging perennials look very rich against shrubbery in October. The bronze and yellow ones blend right into the amber foliage of Spirea thunbergi. When the flowers are gone, the foliage stays on into November and is the last of all the fall foliage effects before winter comes.

THE HOME SHIFT—

With Mildred Swift

Father's Work Before His Day

Next Sunday is Father's Day. Have you told him you think he's a pretty good fellow? Well, if Dad is the gardener, here are a few jobs for him. Of course we don't want him to overwork at this season.

Last week on my way out to pick up some plums, I saw the heaviest carpet of St. Augustine completely slaughtered. It was just plain scraped. So Dad — test the mower and see that it is set 1½ to 2 inches high from now on. Those grass blades which are important in transforming food into energy for growth have a hard time thriving when the lawn is cut too low. Too — if the blades are allowed to grow too long, they tend to become spindly and weak, resulting in a thin weak lawn.

Nothing enhances the appearance of a home so much — or gives greater pleasure and satisfaction to its owner — as does a velvety — smooth carpet of thick heavy green grass. Neat, straight lawn edges show pride of workmanship and are essential to true lawn beauty, too.

More Garden Jobs

On Wednesday, June 22 Johnnie Cox from L. S. U. extension will demonstrate on "Open House" the propagation of azaleas and camellias. Mark that date on your calendar. These cuttings will be made from current, season's growth.

Gardenias are easily rooted, too. Select a twig now, when the new wood is beginning to toughen. Make the cutting from four to six inches long. Plant in semi-shade until it has grown its own roots. The cutting should be kept moist but not soggy. The humid atmosphere they like can be supplied by sprinkling each afternoon.

If you are yearning for hibiscus blooms and regret not buying some plants earlier — it is not too late to plant them in buckets. Just cut the bucket and slide the plant down into a well prepared hole. Fill in with good soil and water well. Trim off the tips of hibiscus branches promptly after flowering to promote the growth of new wood and more flower buds.

You read lots about raised beds in the garden magazines and landscape architects use them in their plans. A very lovely example of such a bed is in the Tom Davenport garden, 610 Loop Road, Monroe. I was passing rather rapidly and couldn't tell exactly what was planted in the beds, but they are under the pines and have walks between the beds. Often there is a reason for these raised beds, other than the aesthetic one — they get the roots of small plants above the ground level where other roots are fighting for food. They are easy to reach for cultivation, too.

Not Too Unusual

No not too unusual are your zinnias, but my what a good old standby they are for hot weather! There are white zinnias, orange, yellow, red, pink and purple. The only requirements are full sun and good drainage. The soil need not even be too fertile, but the zinnia does respond to fertility. To avoid mildew (which is about the only ailment they have) don't crowd plants and when watering avoid wetting the foliage. Zinnias can pep up a tired looking yard in summer and they make excellent cut flowers.

How About It?

Yes, how about it? Have you had your three glasses of milk today? Your body needs the calcium that is in a quart of milk every day. Foods furnishing the same amount of calcium as one quart of milk are: 7½ pounds of carrots, 39 eggs, 28 oranges, 27 pounds potatoes, 6 pounds cabbage. So the calcium in milk is rather cheap, too.

Dates and Doins'

We have a set of four leaflets on making curtains and draperies and one on recipe for color. Jessie Mae Hill, house furnishing specialist, gave two very fine demonstrations on those subjects on Open House last week. If you would like copies, call us at 3-2251. You will need a freezing bulletin too, if you don't have a copy of this publication. Monday on Open House Mrs. Ethel Fuller, Home Demonstration agent from Madison parish will give you menu planning with milk; Tuesday you will see hair styles for different types with some lovely models, illustrating; Wednesday, Mrs. Jardine will be with us with the three blue ribbon flower arrangements from the fifth district garden center, then we will have some gardening. Thursday, to be announced and Friday is marketing day.

See you next Sunday.

Immediate Needs Of Poor Widow Receiving Aid

Money is coming to the News-Star—World to pay for the removal of Mrs. Charlie Perot's home to a new site as demanded by the man who claims the property where it has stood for five years.

This woman, widowed by recent death, and also unfortunate enough to have received a fractured leg in an accident, is able to just get along on a welfare check for herself and 11-year-old daughter. But house moving cost is far beyond her ability to finance. To date $30 has been collected. A sum of $150 is needed to pay for the house removal, a contractor putting the figure low out of sympathy for the woman.

It is expected that the next few days will see a sum raised to pay off the cost of removal.

All who donate will receive the sincere thankfulness of Mrs. Perot.

Engineering Group To Convene Tuesday

The regular monthly meeting of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, Monroe, subsection, will be held Tuesday at the Rendezvous. The meeting will begin at 6:30 p. m.

D. F. Burkhalter, Jr., publicity chairman for the group, has announced that the principal business at the meeting will be the election of officers for the coming year.

There will be a variety program following the business session. This meeting, Burkhalter said, will be ladies night and all wives and dates of members are invited to attend.

Planning to serve creamed shrimp with green peas? Use the cooking liquid from the peas and some of the stock the shrimp was cooked in for the sauce. The peas, of course, should be cooked in a small amount of water so there won't be much liquid in the pan when they are done. The shrimp stock should have bay leaf, a clove, a few peppercorns, some celery leaves and salt.

Detention Home Vote May Serve As 'Trial Balloon' For State-Wide Trend

What has been termed a trial election that may govern the fate of juvenile detention homes throughout the state of Louisiana will be held in the Monroe area Tuesday when Ouachita parish voters will go to the polls to decide the fate of a one-third mill tax for construction of a juvenile detention home in the parish.

Overwhelming support of the detention home has been voiced by judges of virtually all the courts affecting the area, by city officials of the Twin Cities, Ouachita parish officials and more than 75 local organizations.

Both Guy D'Antonio, present president of the Louisiana youth commission, and Judge Frank Voelker, past president of the commission, have expressed the conviction that Ouachita parish will set a pattern Tuesday for the entire state to follow in the juvenile detention home movement.

Five judges associated with the Monroe area and the local juvenile probation officer urged passage of the juvenile detention home tax in statements issued yesterday. Their statements follow:

U. S. District Judge Ben C. Dawkins, Sr.: "The need for detention homes for juveniles is obvious to anyone who has had experience in handling delinquent children, the vast majority of whom are primarily responsible for their plight."

Judge Jesse Heard: "The need for a juvenile detention home in Ouachita parish has been established by the survey of the National Probation and Parole Association made last year. That survey revealed that many children are being held in jails in our parish pending disposition of their cases by the courts. Certainly no one wants to hold their children in confinement with adult criminals, and no one can dispute the ill effects of such association on children. A good, sound and wholesome detention home can do much to help these children while awaiting investigation and disposition by the court."

City Judge Jasper Jones: "I am in favor of the construction of a juvenile detention home in Ouachita parish. In some instances it is necessary that a juvenile be taken into custody and retained in custody for a period of time before a hearing can be arranged. When this is necessary, there is no place in which the juvenile can be retained except in a jail. It is certainly detrimental to a juvenile to be placed in a jail where it is possible for him to come in contact with hardened criminals. The placing of a juvenile in jail may have a detrimental psychological effect upon him. Because of these reasons, I certainly hope that we are successful in obtaining a juvenile detention home."

Judge W. M. Harper: "Always I have felt and known that a jail is no place to incarcerate a juvenile The time has come when this community should make the best provisions known for the placement of children pending disposition of their cases. Those who have studied juvenile delinquency recommend a dention home, and that is the means used by other cities. They have found it effective and what is effective for them will, I believe, be effective for Ouachita parish."

U. S. District Judge Ben C. Dawkins, Jr.—"As a former citizen of Monroe, still having a deep interest in the affairs of Ouachita paarish, and as Judge in Court, permit me to add my endorsement to the many I am sure you already have received in favorite of the establishment of a Juvenile Detention home. It is my understanding that the Ouachita Parish Police Jury has called a special tax election to be held on June 14 for a one-third mill tax, which is to be used to build this Home.

Certainly children of tender years who have become involved in law violations should not be incarcerated with older offenders. That fact is self-evident and all authorities on the subject agree. Therefore, for whatever it may be worth, I consider it a privilage to urge my friends to support passage of this tax and I sincerely hope this will come about."

Others who issued statements endorsing the detention home yesterday were Mayor J. Allan Norris, writing in behalf of the West Monroe council, and Willie J. Harris, Juvenile Probation Officer, Ouachita parish. Their statements are:

Mayor Norris: "The Mayor and Board of Aldermen heartily approve steps being taken toward the erection of a Juvenile Detention Home for Ouachita parish. This is to assure you our wholehearted support of the project."

Mrs. Harris: "For some years I have been privileged to work with the juveniles of Ouachita parish. Our parish and city officials have always been most considerate of our boys and girls. It has always been a distasteful task to be compelled to confine any juvenile in a prison or jail, but what could we do—we had them—and they had to be dealt with. We simply could not turn them loose to commit another crime.

"The though of a possible detention home has certainly been a most welcome one. Many, many times we have had juvenile offenders who had to be punished, and probably crimmed. There are many cases for these—broken homes, untrained, parental, neglect, environments — and a possible just mately bad child, but whatever the cause, we have them and we do, with all of our hearts, want to give all of them a chance to correct their habits, and live good lives.

"The detention home seems to be the answer. Children will be properly housed and cared for by trained workers. There will be no pleading with the people in the community to let these unfortunate ones stay with them for a little while, until some better arrangement can be made for them.

"The Detention home will meet this need. Can any one who is so fortunate as to have a home for himself and his children vote against giving these young ones another chance?"

"Yes, it is going to cost money, $1 per three thousand for five years.

But what will it cost per person in the jails? Have we reckoned with that? Will you vote against giving this mite to save children, physically, morally, mentally and spiritually? Talk it over with your conscience and vote right. One could be your child."

A Negro organization, The Ouachita Parish Citizens Voters League, also went on record last week as favoring the juvenile detention home.

The League's statement said: "The Ouachita Parish Citizens' Voters League is asking all voters who are property owners to go to the polls Tuesday, June 14, and vote yes to the bond issue, for the erection of a detention home for juveniles. World conditions tomorrow will depend largely upon what we do with and for youth today. Vote——vote yes."

Other local officials who had previously endorsed the detention home include Mayor John E. Coon, Monroe; Commissioners Wayne Huckaby and F. N. Cline, Monroe; all members of the Ouachita parish police jury; Sheriff Bailey Grant; Maj. J. D. Whitfield, juvenile division of Monroe police department; Albin Lassiter, Monroe city attorney; and the Twin Cities police chiefs.

More than 75 organizations, including the United Council of Churchwomen, the Ouachita P-T. A. organizations and the local Ministerial Alliance, have also issued statements endorsing the juvenile home tax.

Youth Commission Slates Meeting In L. Providence

LAKE PROVIDENCE, June 11 (Special) — The Louisiana Youth Commission will meet here Wednesday and Thursday, for the first time.

The group will inspect the new prison barracks at the tri-parish farm near Transylvania Wednesday. Thursday morning, beginning at 10:30 a.m., an open meeting will be held at the parish court house. Topic of the meeting will be "Youth and the Community."

The commission is composed of Sen. Guy J. D'Antonio, president, New Orleans; Judge Chris Barnette, Shreveport; Rev. Fa. Fred Digby, New Orleans; Dr. Harrison Dobbs, Louisiana State University; Herbert Heymann, Lafayette; Mrs. G. W. Pomeroy and Mrs. A. Dent Tisdale, both of Monroe; Dr. C. H. Webb, Shreveport; Judge Frank Voelker, Lake Providence; and Lawrence A. Higgins, Baton Rouge, executive secretary of the group.

Deutsch To Address Mental Health Group

Members of the northeast branch of the Louisiana Association for Mental Health will hear a tape recorded talk by Albert Deutsch at the regular meeting Tuesday in the United Gas building on Louisville avenue. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p. m. with the Rev. W. H. McFadden, president, presiding.

Deutsch is a noted author and journalist. His publications include "The Mentally Ill in America," "The Shame of the States" and "The Trouble with Cops." He has written many articles in popular magazines and is winner of the Lasker Press Award for "public information leading to public action in the field of mental health." Time magazine called him "a power in United States medical journalism."

This talk was presented at the first mental health assembly in New Orleans and was tape recorded for presentation in the branches.

MONROE TEMPLE TO MEET

The next regular meeting of Monroe Temple No. 9, Pythian Sisters will be Monday night, in Castle Hall, at 8:00 p. m.

TIM TYLER'S LUCK

By LYMAN YOUNG and TOM MASSEY

DID THE PANTHER CLAW YOU, TIM ?

YOUR SHOT SAVED MY LIFE, SPUD!

I HAD THE STRANGER COVERED AND DISARMED WHEN THE CAT SUDDENLY ATTACKED ME FROM BEHIND—

HE ESCAPED AFTER HEARING ME FIRE —

APPARENTLY HE TRAINED THE VICIOUS BEAST TO ATTACK ANYONE— ESPECIALLY THE HAVERLY FAMILY!

DID YOU GET THE CLAIM JUMPER, TROOPERS ?

NO, BUT SPUD FINISHED HIS KILLER PANTHER, MR. HAVERLY—

THAT STRANGER WILL KEEP IN HIDING UNTIL HE'S CERTAIN YOU TROOPERS HAVE RETURNED TO YOUR OUTPOST QUARTERS —

SUPPOSE WE MAKE BELIEVE WE ARE LEAVING YOU—HE'S NO DOUBT WATCHING THIS PLACE AND WILL SEE US RIDE AWAY —

WE'LL RETURN HERE AS SOON AS IT GETS DARK, SIR —

IN THE MEANTIME, I'LL KEEP THIS RIFLE READY FOR ANY EMERGENCY—

WE KEPT IN THE OPEN—HE COULDN'T HAVE FAILED TO SEE US —

IT'LL BE DARK SOON—THEN WE'LL DOUBLE BACK UNSEEN —

THAT NIGHT

WE'RE ABOUT A HALF-MILE FROM THE HAVERLYS AND —

FIRE! THEIR HOUSE—IT'S ON FIRE, SPUD!

MOST SENSATIONAL DISCOVERY IN 40 YEARS FOR BETTER BAKING AND FRYING!

It's RICH! It's YELLOW!

Procter & Gamble's Golden

EASTERN ILLINOIS BAKING CHAMPION, Mrs. Marcella Stolte, says—"Fluffo gives me cakes I can be really proud of — so moist and rich, yet so light! They're terrific! My family thinks they taste better than any cakes I've ever made... I make my frosting with Fluffo, too—and it's wonderful. So lovely and rich and smooth! And what pretty golden piecrust Fluffo makes! It's really richer-looking!"

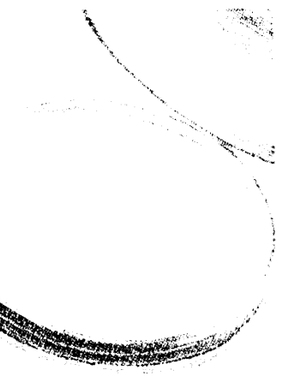
says this maker of the prizewinning chocolate cake in Illinois Cake-Baking Contest.

What a cake it makes!

RICHER-LOOKING... BETTER-TASTING... MORE APPETIZING!

Yes, Fluffo cakes are the highest, lightest, most delicious golden-rich cakes you can possibly bake!

Why? Because fabulous new, easy-to-mix Fluffo blends into smooth, rich batter never possible with any other shortening! Colorrites chocolate and yellow cakes . . . gives delicate moist richness to your white cakes, yet leaves them gloriously white!



Like cooking champions, you'll be truly excited about Golden Fluffo! It gives you high, light, delicate cakes such as you've never been able to bake before . . . richer-looking and better-tasting, by far, than any you can possibly get from white shortening!

And Fluffo is such fun to work with! Use it in all your recipes that call for shortening — and see what happens! Without changing a single measurement, you'll get the flakiest, tenderest golden brown piecrust possible . . . wonderfully tender crisp golden brown fries that are so digestible!

Yet Fluffo costs no more than leading white shortenings! It's available in most areas. Get a can and use it for richer-looking, better-tasting cooking!

MOSES and Miriam
THE PHARAOH OF EGYPT MAY VERY WELL HAVE LISTENED TO HIS PRIESTS' ADVICE TO GET RID OF MOSES... IT IS CERTAIN THE JEALOUS PRIESTS MUST HAVE WANTED TO GUARD AGAINST THE POSSIBILITY OF A HEBREW SLAVE BECOMING AN HEIR TO THE THRONE OF EGYPT...
O' GOLDEN PHARAOH, SON OF THE MIGHTY HORUS, MANY WEEKS HAVE GONE BY... STILL YOU HAVE NOT GIVEN AN ORDER TO SUBSTITUTE AN EGYPTIAN CHILD FOR THIS ISRAELITE, MOSES.
I KNOW... IT WILL BE SOON- BUT--
...BUT- -UGH!
O', SHINING PRINCE.... WHAT IS ---
HE... HE'S DEAD!
BUT AMENHOTEP III DIES SUDDENLY... AND, IN THE CUSTOM OF THE TIMES, MANY INTRICATE AND COLORFUL FUNERAL CEREMONIES ARE PERFORMED....
...THEN THE PHARAOH IS LAID TO REST IN AN ELABORATE TOMB.
...AND HIS SON, AMENHOTEP IV, BECOMES THE NEW PHARAOH.
O' PHARAOH, LIVE-FOR-EVER, KING OF UPPER AND LOWER EGYPT, SON OF RA, EMPEROR OF THE WORLD FROM THE FOURTH CATARACT TO THE EUPHRATES... LET THE UNIVERSE ACKNOWLEDGE YOU LORD OF ALL!
PERHAPS AT THIS TIME MIRIAM COMES TO SEE HER YOUNG BROTHER MOSES...
WHAT IS A HEBREW SLAVE DOING IN THE PALACE?
STOP HER!
WHAT ARE YOU DOING HERE? HEBREW SLAVES ARE FORBIDDEN IN THE PALACE!
I--I CAME TO SEE MY BROTHER... THE PHARAOH'S DAUGHTER HAS GIVEN ME PERMISSION.

LYING SLAVE! THE NEW PHARAOH HAS NO DAUGHTERS... COME WITH ME AND THE PHARAOH WILL PRONOUNCE THE PUNISHMENT YOU DESERVE!
NEXT WEEK--PHARAOH'S ORDERS!
